John K. Reilly, Jr John B. Gates	LEWIS J. McNEAL, Jr.	OCTOBER 4, 1962, PETITION FOR DECLARATORY JUDGMENT filed.
W. Albert Ramey	D. T. Mitchell, Jr. Estate	October 5, 1962, Service Accepted. W. Albert Ramey, Attorney for Defendant. October 17, 1962, Defendant's Answer Raising Question of Law filed by W. Albert Ramey, Attorney for Defendant. Now, October 17, 1962, Service accepted for Plaintiff, John K. Reilly, Jr., Attorney for Plaintiff. September 28, 1964, Praecipe filed by John K. Reilly, Jr. & John B. Gates, Attys for Plaintiff. Place the above captioned matter on the current argument list with respect to Defendant's answer to petition for Declaratory Judgment. MARCH 22, 1966, OPINION AND ORDER, filed. Plaintiff filed petition for declaratory judgment, which was followed by defendant's answer denying plaintiff's right to use the declaratory judgment proceeding to have their rights determined. The petition avers that plaintiff and defencant's decedent had entered into a written option-lease agreement involving lands owned by decedent; that under the agreement, plaintiff had drilled for clay and reported his findings to decedent and North American Refractories; that the option was not exercised, but decedent and the Refractories entered into a lease between them; that decedent had agreed to pay plaintiff an overriding royalty, and after his death his co-executrices also agreed, in writing, to make payment; and although clay was mined, defendant refused payment to plaintiff. Both of the written instruments are part of the petition. Even though the matter does appear to be one which the parties could very easily resolve without any legal action at all, it still appears that it is not proper to attempt to resolve the issues in this type of action. It would appear that the more appropriate remedy is an action of assumpsit, wherein issues of fact may be resolved by the jury. Declaratory judgment proceedings may not lie where a more appropriate remedy is available to fully protect the rights of all parties concerned: CARLSSON V. PENNSYLVANIA GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY, 417 Pa. 356. As here stated, if the estate is in violation of its contract, "an adequate remedy at law exists wherein any resulting loss incurred can be recovered". It has been held also that this proceeding is "not an optional substitute for established or available remedies"; and where the latter exist, even "the fact that both parties 'accepted' the court's jurisdiction is not controlling": GREENBERG V. BLUMBERG, 416 Pa. 226, 228. Therefore, the Court must enter the following property. Wise was never informed by the Railroad that this was the case, or that the sale had to be approved by the Board of Directors.

In this instance, the Real Estate Department never submitted the purchase offer of F. W. Wise Gas Company, Inc. to the New York Central Board of Directors. Consequently, the Board never acted to authorize a sale of the property to Wise. The records of the Railroad show, however, that on September 9, 1958, the Board of Directors formally approved the sale of the disputed real estate to "Harold D. Woolridge, or his nominee."

In pretrial discovery proceedings, Wise came upon various letters and other inter-office and inter-departmental correspondence within the Railroad organization referring to the Wise-Railroad transaction. A number of these were introduced into evidence at trial. As stated above, the Railroad strenuously argues that this was error. It contends that since these documents were entirely intra-mural, or in any event not communicated to Wise, they could not be the basis of the conclusion that the offer was accepted by the Railroad, or the corollary conclusion that the Railroad agents had apparent authority to accept the offer, either by word or deed. An acceptance of an offer, says the appellant, must normally be communicated to the offeror, Bershad v. Chester Nest No. 1228, 364 Pa. 393, 72 A.2d 116 (1950); and Morganstern Electric Co. v. Coraopolis Borough, 326 Pa. 154, 191 Atl. 603 (1937), and "apparent authority" must by definition be made apparent. Jennings v. Pittsburgh Mercantile Co. 414 Pa. 641, 645, 202 A.2d 51 (1964), Simon v. H. K. Porter Co., 407 Pa. 359, 180 A.2d 227 (1962). The argument continues that the contested exhibits, being messages within the Railroad bureaucracy, and unknown to Wise before the litigation, could not be used to prove these necessarily overt aspects of contract making.

Accepting for the purposes of this opinion the validity of this position, it does not follow that the writings in dispute were not otherwise admissible. The rationale of their introduction into evidence was stated by Judge Cherry in his charge to the jury as follows:

"In and of themselves, the interoffice communications do not make the contract -- they do not; but they serve for the purposes that I have already indicated to you, to establish, number one, in your minds the credibility, help establish it, the credibility that you wish to attach to the testimony of any particular witness. Number two, to determine, and help you determine how these parties treated their acts and their words in dealing with each other; how they interpreted them and how they felt they were affected by them." We are of the opinion that admission of the documents for the limited purposes indicated in the charge was not error.

We will not burden this opinion with a detailed description of the 16 papers in the "intra-mural" category, and 6 others which passed between the Railroad and third persons, but some indication of their contents is necessary to illustrate the evidentiary problem.

Exhibits 12 and 13, chronologically the first letters complained of, were letters from the District Freight Sales Manager and the Division Superintendent of the Railroad, respectively, to Mr. Fullerton in 1955 concerning the proposed sale to Mr. Wise. Wise knew that Fullerton had written to these persons requesting their concurrence before he prepared a formal offer to purchase; when the offer form was submitted soon thereafter, he could reasonably have inferred such approval by these officials representing the sale and operating departments of the Railroad. The letters were thus merely confirmatory of the approval, and by themselves did not prove a contract. Their admission into evidence was not prejudicial.

As to the other contested documents, it is enough to relate that they reveal that, at various stages of the relationship with Wise, the Railroad personnel felt committed to the consummation of the sale transaction. Thus, J. O. Boisi, the Director of Real Estate (the top echelon of management, reporting directly to the President), on August 30, 1957, wrote to an inquiring possible purchaser, "...negotiations for the sale of this property were concluded several months ago, so that we are not in a position to negotiate with your bank with respect thereto."

On September 4, 1957, Mr. Boisi sent a copy of the August 30 letter to a Mr. Clothier, an officer in the Real Estate Department, junior to Mr. Boisi, who had the title "Real Estate Agent", and by a separate note advised him: "Negotiations have already been concluded for the sale of this property to F. W. Wise Gas Company, Inc. of Clearfield, Pa. ...It also involves dedication to the Borough of a portion of our holdings for street purposes." A week later Mr. Boisi wrote again to Mr. Clothier, as follows:

"At Clearfield, Pennsylvania, we have completed negotiation for the conveyance of a parcel of land to F. W. Wise Gas Company, Inc. Preparation of a formal deed had been delayed pending agreement with the Borough for additional lands to be used for street purposes, abutting the proposed conveyance on the north and west." On November 18, 1957, Mr. Fullerton, a key figure throughout the transaction, and by this time second in command to Mr. Boisi for the eastern area, wrote to Mr. Clothier as follows:

"In your letter of November 17 you cite an interest in purchasing by Woolridge Coal Company. I have discussed this possibility with Industrial Engineer Marshall and he concurs with me that the sale to F. W. Wise Gas Company has progressed too far to be rescinded, with which A. R. Lancto (District Freight Sales Manager) also agrees."

A similar letter went from Fullerton to Clothier in February, 1958, which refers to "a definite commitment" having been made to the Gas Company. Clothier then advised Woolridge that because of this the Railroad could not give favorable consideration to its offer.

In determining the admissibility of these letters, along with others less significant, the fact that Mr. Fullerton, who was Eastern Real Estate Manager of the Railroad and who had been with the Real Estate Department since 1928, was a principal witness at the trial is noteworthy. First called by Wise as on cross-examination, he was also called by the Railroad. It was he who in 1955 had the first dealings with Wise and it was he who, in 1958, advised Wise that the deal was off. He testified extensively to the effect that no contract had been entered into with Wise and that no authority existed in any Railroad officer or employee to bind the company. Clearly, his testimony and the weight to be given it were important. His credibility and good faith, and that of the other two Railroad officers who testified (by deposition) was in issue. The letters were not only corroborative of Wise's position of contract acceptance by authorized personnel; they were also in the category of prior inconsistent statements, if not admissions by the Railroad, and were admissible at least for impeachment purposes, it not for the truth of their contents. Gougher v. Hansler, 388 Pa. 160, 166, 130 A.2d 150 (1957). See 1 Henry, Pennsylvania Evidence, §71, 2 id. §*)L, V Wigmore on Evidence, 3d. Ed. §1017, 1041, 1 Morgan, Basic Problems of Evidence, 69 (ALI, 1954). This was the rationale of their introduction into evidence. No error was thereby committed.

Judgment affirmed.

Mr. Justice Roberts concurs in results.

JUNE 6, 1968, OPINION filed.

Under date of December 18, 1967, the Court entered an Order dismissing and denying defendants' motion for new trial of this case, in which, after trial by jury, verdict was rendered in favor plaintiff. The case is one that requires a full reading of the testimony in order to fully meet the contentions of the defendants. Suffice to declare that the Court is satisfied that the proof established an offer and acceptance, by various writings passing between plaintiff and defendants; and that the jury was fully warranted, under the facts and the law, in returning the verdict of $23,500.00 in favor of plaintiff. The defendants insist that the Court overlooked the fundamental basis to establish the existence of a contract; and that no such jury question was presented by plaintiff. Defendants also contend that inner-office and inner-departmental communications of defendants could not be used to establish their interpretation that they themselves placed upon the various writings. Again, without reciting all the details, we are satisfied that there was full assent of the two minds to the very same thing, to-wit: that the defendants would sell and the plaintiff would buy lands belonging to defendants. We are satisfied that the defendants. We are satisfied that the defendants placed a construction upon the disputed writings, themselves, which established that they had bound themselves to the sale which they later refused to make, Defendants contention that their agents have no authority to bind the Company was matter for the jury, which found contrariwise to their position. This plaintiff, with all reason, had the right to understand and believe that defendants' agents had full authority to bind their Company; and plaintiff had no basis upon which it could be made to believe that there was no secret arrangement between the principal and the agent to the effect that no such authority existed. Therefore, we are satisfied that the acts of these agents were fully within the apparent scope of their authority and were binding upon the defendants. Therefore, we further declare that the Order heretofore entered under date of December 18, 1967, must stand. Dated June 6, 1968. By the Court, s/ John A. Cherry.

APRIL 14, 1970, OPINION OF THE COURT, FILED.

Plaintiff-appellee (Wise) sued the three railroad company defendants, all part of the New York Central System (herein collectively referred to as "the Railroad") jointly for damages for breach of an alleged contract to sell to Wise for the sum of $15,000 certain real estate owned by the Railroad in the Borough of Clearfield, Pennsylvania, and not needed for railroad purposes ("the property"). The defenses of the Railroad were that no contract had been entered into; that, if there were a contract, it was made by agents who had no authority to bind the Railroad; and that, assuming an otherwise valid contract, it did not meet the requirements of the Statute of Frauds. These matters were left to the jury by the trial judge, who overruled the Railroad's motions for compulsory nonsuit and for binding instructions. The jury returned a verdict for plaintiff in the amount of $23,500. The Railroad's motion for a new trial was refused, and judgment was entered on the verdict. This appeal followed. We affirm.

At the outset we are met with the problem of what questions are properly before us on this appeal. The Statement of Questions Involved, as contained in appellants' brief, is reproduced in the margin.

Question No. (1) is apparently based on the first reason given in the motion for a new trial, viz., "The court erred in refusing to grant the Railroad's motion for nonsuit at the conclusion of plaintiff's case." We hold that the refusal of a motion for nonsuit is not a valid reason for a new trial in this or any case where the defendant offers testimony. A defendant's right to request a nonsuit is based on his offering no evidence, and the court cannot grant a nonsuit after the introduction of evidence by the defendant. Act of March 11, 1875, P.L. 6, § 1, 12 P.S. 5645; Highland Tank and Manufacturing Company v. Duerr, 423 Pa. 487, 225 A.2d 83 (1966); Jordan v. Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, 366 Pa. 495, 500, 77 A.2d 631 (1951). Cf. Kukich v. Serbian Eastern Orthodox Church of Pittsburgh, 415 Pa. 28, 202 A.2d 77 (1964). If a nonsuit motion made at the close of the plaintiff's case is refused by the trial judge, the defendant has an option either to rest on that motion and present no evidence, or to put in a case. If the defendant elects to proceed, as did the Railroad in the present case, the nonsuit stage is over, and the correctness of the court's ruling is moot. Whether Wise's case was adequate for submission to the jury is therefore not a question properly before us on this appeal.

Question No. (5) of the Statement raises the question of the Statute of Frauds, which the Railroad asserted as a defense in its answer and again in its points for charge. Unfortunately for the Railroad, however, the defense was not raised in the motion for new trial. No error was claimed with regard to the court's rulings on the points for charge. The new trial motion states (point 4) that "the court erred in its charge to the jury", but this is obviously too general to merit attention. The subject of the Statute of Frauds in not mentioned in the lower court's opinion, and presumably was not argued before it. This defense of the Statute not having been properly preserved by the Railroad in the court below, we conclude that the issue is not properly before us on this appeal.

Questions (2), (3), and (4) of the Statement are properly before us. We therefore address ourselves to the question whether or not certain intra-company Railroad documents, plus a few letters between the Railroad and third persons, were improperly and prejudicially admitted into evidence. Some factual background is necessary to illuminate the setting in which the exhibits were introduced.

The undisputed evidence (not including the challenged documents) showed protracted negotiations, starting early in 1955, for the sale by the Railroad of certain land to Wise, who planned to erect on the property a bulk storage plant for propane gas, which it intended to bring in by rail over a private side track on the property. All the terms of the sale, including the purchase price of $15,00, were apparently agreed upon by Wise and the Railroad personnel with whom he dealt, and were set forth in a written offer signed by Wise on a form submitted by the Railroad. Wise's check for $1,500 "earnest money", being 1/10 of the proposed purchase price, accompanied the offer and was deposited by the Railroad. The Railroad made no formal reply to the offer and no deed was ever tendered. In August, 1958, Mr. A. C. Fullerton, the Railroad's Real Estate Manager, Eastern Section, wrote to Wise stating, in effect, that his offer was inadequate and could not be further considered. At a later date the hard money was returned. In the two and a half years which intervened between the submission of the offer and its attempted rejection, several events took place:

1. A side track agreement contemplated by the parties in connection with the land sale was executed by both parties. Attached to it was a plan which identified "Land to be sold to F. W. Wise Gas Co., Inc." and signed by three officials of the Railroad. (This was cancelled concurrently with the rejection of the offer.)
2. Mr. Wise was consulted by the Railroad as to whether a street adjacent to the property should be deeded to the Borough of Clearfield or retained by the Railroad, maintenance costs to be divided with Wise. Preferring the conveyance to the Borough, Wise, at the request of the Railroad Real Estate Agent, was in touch with the Borough Council President, the Borough Engineer, the Street Commissioner and the Solicitor, with the result that the Council did adopt an ordinance agreeing to accept dedication.
3. During this period, according to Mr. Wise, Railroad officials would stop at his office periodically "to see how things were progressing and how soon we could start construction and how soon they could expect some revenue from our company." Also, Wise testified, Mr. Fullerton called him about the transaction on different occasions, and he called on Fullerton in New York.

At trial, officers of the Railroad testified as to the formal procedures employed by the Railroad during the relevant period in effecting a sale of real estate owned by the corporation. In general, the Land and Tax Agent (later called Real Estate Agent), upon favorable review of a firm offer from a prospective purchaser, submitted the proposal to other interested departments, primarily the Operating Department, Engineering Department and Freight Sales Department. If these departments had no objections to the transaction, the agent then referred the matter to the Vice President in charge of the Railroad's real estate department. With his concurrence, the proposal went to the Board of Directors for authorization, which would be granted as a matter of course. Without action by the Board of Directors, no railroad official enjoyed the express power to complete a sale of any railroad

AUGUST 14, 1965, CERTIFICATE OF AMOUNT IN CONTROVERSY, filed.
I hereby certify that the value of the property and amount in controversy in the above case tried before me is greater than ten thousand dollars, exclusive of costs. John A. Cherry, President Judge 46th Judicial District.
SEPTEMBER 22, 1965, OPINION AND ORDER, filed.
On August 27, 1964 plaintiffs filed petition to strike judgment of non-pros entered by the defendant under date of November 22, 1963. Plaintiffs' claim is based on an alleged injury suffered by the wife-plaintiff on December 19, 1960, notice of which injury was given to defendant some time in January 1961. Approximately one week prior to the running of the Statute of Limitation, the then attorney for plaintiffs filed a praecipe for writ of summons in trespass, which was served on December 18, 1962. Apparently negotiations continued between the counsel for plaintiffs and defendant for some period of time. Nothing was resolved therefrom. Counsel for defendant served a rule upon counsel for plaintiffs to file complaint, which service was accepted by the then counsel for plaintiffs on July 24, 1963. Although counsel for defendant continuously requested that the rule be complied with, no complaint was filed until November 29, 1963, some eleven months after the running of the Statute of Limitations; said complaint was also filed approximately six months prior to the death of the then counsel for plaintiffs.
The record shows that said counsel had a very serious heart ailment, although he did engage in practice through the period of months prior to the running of the Statute. In fact, the record shows that he as District Attorney conducted criminal court sessions without cessation.
Two separate hearings were held upon the instant petition, the Court having determined that it should have further testimony after the first hearing, most particularly with regard to any medical proof affecting the deceased counsel and which might provide an excuse for the failure to file any complaint in the matter. Unfortunately, the Court has had to conclude that the law overcomes any personal desire of the hearing Judge to safeguard the interests of the tehm attorney as well as the instant plaintiffs. They synpathies of the Court are such that if it could ha possibly have found a justifiable legal reason for striking the non-pros and requiring the parties to establish their respective rights by ordinary procedures and trial, it would have done so. However, a careful analysis of all of the testimony and the inferences to be drawn from that testimony required that the prayer of the petition be denied and that the nol-pros be allowed to stand. This the Court determined by virtue of the treatment and holding of our Appellate Courts in cases such as McDonald vs. Allen, 416 Pa. 397, and prior cases. In the specifically cited case, the Court dealt with a matter quite similar to the instant case
Although the lower Court felt constrained to open the judgment in the cited case, the Supreme Court determined that fnder the law it had abused its discretion in such matters; even though it recognized that a petition to open judgment by default is addressed to the sound discretion of the trial Court, and is essentially an equitable proceeding ruled by equitable principles.
The Court there quoted from Derbyshire vs. McManamy, 101 Pa. Superior Ct. 514, to the following effect: "Whatever return indulgence he had earned by his extension of time to defendants' counsel had long since been exhausted and the debt was by this time all the other way". As in that case, counsel for this defendant had made repeated oral and written requests upon plaintiffs' counsel to file the complaint; and the instant Court decided, as the Supreme Court decided in the McDonald case, that "he had no right to rely on the defendants' counsel's further indulgence and and forbearance". Thus, even though this Court would wish to accord relief, it is constrained to recognize that there is no foundation under the law by which it could reasonably exercise a discretion permitting it to strike the judgment of non-pros.

In view of the foregoing, and without further elucidation of the facts which are sustained in the testimony, the Court entered the following Order under date of April 9, 1965, and does hereby reaffirm the same:

NOW, April 9, 1965, after full hearing had upon petition of plaintiffs to strike judgment of non-pros, and it appearing that all matters involved are controlled by the case of McDonald vs. Allen, 416 Pa. 397, petition is hereby denied. Opinion will be filed in the even of appeal. By the Court, John A. Cherry, President Judge.
Dated: September 22, 1965.

MARCH 31, 1966, REMITTITUR FROM Supreme Court, filed.

Whereas, by virtue of our Writ of Certiorari from our Supreme Court of Pennsylvania for the Eastern District, returnable in the same Court on the Second Monday of November in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixty-five a record was brought into the same Court upon appeal by Agnes C. FEBRUARY 7, 1963, PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS, filed. One copy certified to the Sheriff.

Your Petitioner therefore, prays your Honor to grant a Writ of Habeas Corpus, agreeably to the Act of Assembly in such case, made and provided, to bring up the body of the said Andrew E. Kruk, Jr. /s/ Betty L. Kruk

ORDER: AND NOW, this 7th day of February, 1963, upon consideration of the within petition, it is directed that a Writ of Habeas Corpus and subjiciendum issue forthwith directing Andrew E. Kruk to produce Andrew E. Kruk, Jr.
at a hearing to be held on the 25th day of February 1963, at 1:30 P.M. in the No. 1 Court Room, Clearfield County Court House, Clearfield, Pennsylvania. By the Court,
John J. Pentz, President Judge.

February 12, 1963, Sheriff's Return, filed.
Now, February 7, 1963 at 6:15 o'clock P.M. served the within Petition and Order on Andrew E. Kruk on South
Franklin Street, City of DuBois, County of Clearfield, State of Pennsylvania by handing to Andrew E. Kruk a true and attested copy of the original Petition and Order and made known to him the contents thereof. So answers, James B. Reese, Sheriff.

February 26, 1963, Order, filed:

O R D E R : NOW, February 25, 1963, having heard the evidence in this habeas corpus proceeding, and it appearing from the testimony produced, that the father of this boy, and the mother, have after some seventeen years of married life, reached the point that they no longer will live and cohabit as man and wife, and maintain a home for the son and the younger daughter born to this marriage; and it further appearing that that the father, the defendant, having been unemployed since December 1962, and his employment has ben intermitten, so that the mother has been working out of necessity, although living in a home owned by the mother-in-law of the defendant; the mother-in-law being partially helpless and, from the testimony, not too able to supervise the young children, six and four years of age.

Th Appellate Courts of this state have stated a fixed rule that small children shall not be taken from the custody of the mother, if at all possible to keep the children with the mother. The situation here presented, is one that the home has within it the boy's grandmother, who is not too able physically, to look after the child; the mother must, of necessity, work; and the defendant, who has taken the boy from the home, has not been very steadily employed the last three or four years. The status quo as existed prior to February 5, 1963, will, for the present, be restored, and Andrew E. Kruk, Jr., the child, will be returned to his mother; subject, however, to examination and report of the Child Welfare Services; and subject to the mother and the father presenting a feasible plan to give proper and further supervision to these two children in the home, if the mother is necessarily employed.

This situation will remain as stated, for the present; and, after investigation by the Child Welfare Services of this County, and on failure of the parties, either the mother, father, or other members of the family, to provide some better mode of living than for the crippled grandmother to look after the children, further Order will have to be made.

The father of the child, Andrew E. Kruk, shall have the right of visitation, to see the boy, as well as Lornie, the daughter, at any time outside of school hours, and on condition that he shall not remove them from City of DuBois.

If the mother does not take the children to Church and Sunday School, the father may do so. By the Court,
John J. Pentz, President Judge.

PRELIMINARY ORDER OF COURT ON MOTION FOR JUDGMENT OF NON PROS

And Now, this 11 day of November, A.D., 1976, the foregoing Motion having been presented, read and considered, it is ORDERED AND DECREED that a copy of the said Motion and this Order of Court shall be served by ordinary mail on the Plaintiffs and the Additional Defendants or their counsel of record; that the Plaintiffs shall have until the 29 day of November, 1976, to file an answer to the said Motion; and that a hearing shall be held on the said Motion of the 3 day of December, 1976, at 2:30 p.m. BY THE COURT, John K. NOVEMBER 24, 1976, MOTION FOR STAY OF PROCEEDINGS ON MOTION FOR JUDGMENT OF NON PROS, filed.

The Petition of Dan P. Arnold, local counsel for plaintiffs in the above captioned case, respectfully represents:

1. That on November 11, 1976, when your petitioner was out of town for one week, Pennsylvania Electric Company presented a Motion for Judgment of Non Pros and obtained a preliminary order requiring an answer to be filed by November 29, 1976, and a hearing on the motion on December 3, 1976.
2. That McArdle, Harrington & McLaughlin, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, are the attorneys for the plaintiffs and requested your petitioner to be local counsel on their behalf, the case having been started at a time when attorneys could not practice in counties in which they had not been admitted without obtaining local counsel.
3. That your petitioner did not receive a copy of defendant's Motion for Judgment of Non Pros until his return from the Pennsylvania Bar Association convention on Thursday, November 18, 1976.
4. That on November 18th and 19th, your petitioner attempted to contact James E. McLaughlin of counsel for the plaintiffs but was unable to reach him because he was engaged in a jury trial.
5. That your petitioner, as local counsel, is unaware of the facts, agreements and negotiations of the parties plaintiff and defendant and is unable to make an intelligent or informed answer to defendant's motion.
6. That your petitioner, while not representing the plaintiffs directly, in the interest of fairness and justice is petitioning the Court for a stay of the proceedings until such time as James E. McLaughlin, attorney for plaintiffs, can file an answer and arrange for a hearing which your petitioner believes will involve the calling of many witnesses.
7. That your petitioner, as local counsel, will forward all of the papers, including this stay of proceedings and a copy of the docket entries, to the aforesaid James E. McLaughlin immediately upon signing of the order attached hereto.
