SEPTEMBER 17, 1987, SUPERIOR COURT DOCKET NO. 01258PGH87, filed
OCTOBER 5, 1987 MEMORANDUM, filed. 2 Cert. Judge Ammerman

This matter came before the Court on PLaintiff's Motion for Post-Trial Relief pursuant to Rule 227.1 of the Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure. Specifically, the Plaintiff requested that the Court remove the compulsory non-suit granted in favor of the Defendant's on March 30, 1987. On August 18, 1987, the Court granted Plaintiff's request with regard to the Non-Suit granted in favor of the Defendant's James Clarkson and Joseph Cusick.
The Court is of the opinion that the Defendant's James Clarkson and Joseph Cusick, have no right to appeal from an Order removing a Complusory Non=Suit. Pappas v. Keely, 396 Pa. 63, 151 A.2d 467 (1959). See also DiGregorio v.Skinner, 351 Pa. 441., 41 A.2d 649 (1945). Therefore, the Court will not address the issues raised by Defendant's appeal. BY THE COURT, s/Joseph S. Ammerman, Judge.

NOVEMBER 20, 1987, MEMORANDUM, filed 3 copies cert.
In conclusion, a compulsory non-suit may be entered only where the facts lead unerringly to the conclusion of nonliability and any conflicts in the evidence must be resolved in the Plaintiff's favor. After reconsidering the testimony in the light most favorable to Plaintiff, the Court concluded that the case should have been submitted to the jury. BY THE COURT: Joseph S. Ammerman, JUDGE.

OCTOBER 24, 1986 ADDITIONAL DEFENDANT'S MEMORANDUM IN RESPONSE TO POST-TRIAL MOTIONS filed by Fredric J. Ammerman, Esquire

NOVEMBER 25, 1986 MEMORANDUM AND ORDER filed
Post Trial Relief Motions have been filed by the plaintiffs and defendant. As already stated in the Court's Findings and Opinion, the plaintiffs directed the additional defendant to continue backfilling despite the additional defendant's opposition to continue to do so. It is to be further noted that the defendant had full responsibility of supervision and direction in respect to the work which had to be done. Of course, as the Court also found, the defendant had not property done his work and that the same was the causative factor in the loss suffered by the plaintiffs.
For the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law as set forth in the original Opinion, we enter the following

AUGUST 22, 1985, MEMORANDUM AND ORDER, filed.

Plaintiff's complaint alleges a trespass to its property by Defendant in transporting coal from Defendant's strip mine operations to its destination. Plaintiff seeks to recover damages measured by an amount per ton of coal Defendant has filed Preliminary Objections to the measure claiming that the proper measure of damages is not wheelage to the Plaintiff's property. And therefore, Defendant asks of Plaintiff's complaint claiming wheelage as damages. dismiss Defendant's Preliminary Objections.

so transported in the amount of 25¢. of damages claimed by the Plaintiff c but compensation for any injury done this Court to strike those paragraphs This Court disagrees and does herein

If, as allged, Defendant has transported coal across Plaintiff's premises without Plaintiff's prior consent, it has indeed committed a trespass. It is further possible that such a trespass would result in little or no physical damage to Plaintiff's property and if such were the case Defendant could escape the consequence of his tortious conduct with little or no liability. As stated by the Superior Court in Smith v. Benjamin, 279 Pa. Super. 82,420 A.2d 754, the general theory of the Law of Remedies is that a wrongdoer should not profit by his tort, innocent or otherwise. To permit a measure of damages as requested by the Defendant would indicate that coal companies could freely trespass on property of others feeling secure that they would only be penalized for any actual physical damages done to the premises regardless of how much coal was transported across said premises. This result is totally unfair and would result in unjust enrichment to the Defendant. The Plaintiff is entitled to be compensated in an amount reasonable in all the circumstances to compensate him for Defendant's taking without consent an incident of ownership belonging to the Plaintiff. Certainly a fair measure of damages then would be a fair amount per ton for the coal hauled across Plaintiff's property. While this amount may not be the 25¢ per ton alleged in Plaintiff's complaint, Plaintiff must be given the opportunity to prove a fair wheelage figure as its measure of damages.

WHEREFORE, the Court enters the following:

ORDER

NOW, this 22nd day of August, 1985, it is the ORDER of this Court that Defendant's Preliminary Objections be and are hereby dismissed and Defendant directed to file responsive pleadings to Plaintiff's Complaint within twenty (20) days from date hereof.
