1 cert/Atty Carfley, 1 cert/Atty Keiffer

AND NOW, this 27th day of September, 1989, the parties having advised the court, through their cousenl, that they have entered into an agreement to amend the Post Nuptial Agreement incorporated into the final decree of divorce entered by the Court on Augsut 13, 1986, and the court being satisfied that the best interest and welfare of the child will be served by ordering joint legal custody of teh minor child with primary physical custody to be vested in the father and secondary physical custody/visitation to be vested in themother, consistent with the terms and conditions of that Agree-ment entered into by the parties on the 27th day of June, 1989, IT IS THE ORDER OF THIS COURT that the said agreement is hereby accepted and incorporated herein by reference and the court does further order as follows:

1. That the parties hereto shall share joint legal custody of the minor child. Primary physical custody shall be vested in the father and secondary physical custody/visitation shall be vested in the mother with visitation to be exercised according to a schedule to be determined by the parties hereto but with minimum visitation as set forth in the attached agreement. That the said parties shall exercise all reasonable efforts to maintain the integrity of the family relationship as between Roni Lynn Raymond, Ronald Raymond and Diane Watson, and to that end will cooperate in ten transference of routine custody so as to provide amply opportunity for each parent to associate, interact, and develop a normal and meaningful parent/child relationship.

3. That the parteis hereto shall cooperate and interact so as to coordinate their efforts in the upbringing of this child and to communicate with each other so much as possible in order to insure that the individual desires of each parent insofar as they impact on the up-bringing of the child can be implemented.

Following argument and briefsthis Court does herein grant said Preliminary Objections.It appears from the pleadings that Plaintiff TIMHUBER was insured under an insurance policy issued inaccordance with the provisions of the Motor VehicleFinancial Responsibility Law which was in effect onSeptember 29, 1988. On that date, Plaintiffreceived injuries while loading materials onto histruck. From the pleadings, it is clear that Plaintiffwas not occupying the vehicle at the time but wasapparently standing to the rear of his vehicle.Defendant denied coverage on the basis of a policyexclusion providing that First Party Benefits are notavailable when injuries result from loading orunloading a motor vehicle if the individual is notoccupying said vehicle.  |  |

|                     |  | Plaintiff, in Count III of his Complaint, demandstreble damages under 73 Pa. D.S.A. Section 201.9-2.The Pennsylvanial Unfair Trade Practice andConsumer Protection Law based on Defendant's denial ofcoverage.In the Complaint Plaintiff has not specificallyalleged any fraudulent conduct which created alikelihood of confusion or misunderstanding which isnecessary to sustain a cause of action under the aboveact. In relying on it's policy exclusion, the Defendantis clearly not guilty of such fraudulent conduct as torequire assessment of treble damages. Indeed, theAppellate Courts have not resolved the issue of whethera person not in fact occupying a vehicle is entitledto recover for injuries sustained in loading orunloading a vehicle.In his Brief, Plaintiff cites "Omodio v. Aetna Life and Casualty, 559 A. 2d570 (1989). In that case the Superior Court of Pennsylvania states:A more reasonalbe view, suggested not only by the trial court but alsoby the authors of a treatise on the Financial Responsibility Law, J.Ronca, L. Sloane, & J. Mundy, Pennsylvania Motor Vehicle InsuranceAn Analysis of the Financial Responsibility Law Section 3.5 (b) 1986is that the omission of the loading/unloading exclusion from thelegislature's intent that this class of victims receive coverage.Whether this interpretation is in fact correct, and all personsinjured in the course of loading or unloading a motor vehicle--those who were not occupying, entering into, or alighting from thevehicle, as well as those who were-are entitled to coverage underthe Financial Responsibility Law, is an issue that we are not calledupon to resolve in this appeal, for the parties have stipulated thatOmodio was standing inside the vehicle when he sustained injury.In view of the fact that the Courts have not resolved the issue involvedhere, Defendant can hardly be penalized by imposing treble damages upon it forit for taking the position that it has in this case.WHEREFORE, the Court enters the following:ORDERNOW, this 5th day of October, 1989, it is the ORDER of this Court thatDefendant's Preliminary Objections in the nature of a demurrer to Court II ofPlaintiff's Complaint be and are hereby sustained and said Count dismissed.
