IN RE PUBLIC ROAD IN PIKE TOWNSHIP) No. 1 September Term, 1921
)

REMONSTRANCE

To the Honorable Singleton Bell, President Judge of said Court:

The undersigned citizens and inhabitants of the Township of Pike, County of Clearfield and State of Pennsylvania, respectfully represent:

That they are opposed to the granting of a Public Road leading from the public road at or near the buildings of Jesse Garrison in Pike Township, and extending to a public road at or near the farm buildings of the John I. Bloom Estate, now belonging to Howard Bloom, Frank Bloom and Blake Bloom, a distance of approximately three-quarters of a mile, for the following reasons:

First: That the present Public Road in said locality is sufficient to supply the wants of the citizens of said Township and parties desiring to travel in said vicinity.

Second: That said road is unnecessary for public convenience and use and instead of being a necessity would be a convenience only to a few, and the costs and expenditures in constructing the road would be an uncalled for burden upon the citizens of the Township.

Third: That there is no increase population along the said proposed public road and there has been an outlet and road sufficient to accomodate all parties in the vicinity of said road.

Your petitioners pray that the petition for said road as prayed for in the above proceedings to No. 1 September Sessions, 1921, be refused for the reasons above set forth, and they will ever pray.
