22 P.S. § 16

Section 1 of this title was directory only, and necessity for appointment and qualifications of applicant were within discretion of court. In re Gorand's Detective License, 35 Del.Co. 15 (1948). Detectives ~~3~~ 3

The necessity for the appointment, and the qualifications of the applicant, are within the discretion of the court. Dickerson's Petition, 5 Lack. 292, 3 Pa.J.L. 90, 1904.

License is within discretion of court. Tressell's Application, 5 Wash. 21, 38 York, 133, 17 Del. 27, 1924.

2. Necessity for license

Act of 1887, May 23, P.L. 173 required detective to obtain license from court of quarter sessions of county where his principal office is located, and necessity was ground on which granting of application must be based. Quatello's Est., 23 Sch. 61, 9 Pa. D. & C. 74, 1927; Zavaglia's Appeal, 23 Sch. 374, 1927.

The necessity for a license for a private detective must be shown before it would be granted under act of 1887, May 23, P.L. 173, § 2 and circumstances held not to show such necessity. Bartolemeo's Application, 22 Dist. 502, 41 Pa.C.C. 252, 1913.

A private detective should be appointed only in case of clear necessity; and a group of foreign-born citizens is not entitled to a private detective merely on the ground of their nationality. Richey's Petition, 13 Dist. 400, 1904.

Application for license as private detective will be refused where court is satisfied that county already has sufficient number of officers. Boyer's Application, 18 Pa. D. & C. 155, 1932.

Application for license will be refused where it is not shown that there is real necessity for detective, notwithstanding proper qualifications of applicant. Scholl's Pet., 41 Mont. 49, 6 Pa. D. & C. 603, 1925.

Necessity is principal ground for granting license. Cutler's Petition, 30 Sch. 316, 1932.

It was not intended that particular groups of individuals or associations might procure private detective license for one of their employees solely and alone for their own purposes. Cutler's Petition, 30 Sch. 316, 1932.

Application for license as private detective will be refused where no necessity for one is shown to exist. Miraglia's Petition, 20 Sch. 325, 1924.

On application for appointment as private detective for hire, under act of 1887, May 23, P.L. 173, § 2, question of necessity for such appointment was for court. Buckman's Application, 5 Som. 63, 14 Pa. D. & C. 611, 1930.

3. Qualifications

Fact that applicant for private detective license, who was otherwise eminently qualified, did not have power to arrest or to initiate enforcement proceedings in his prior employment as detective in bureau of investigations of department of auditor general did not disqualify him from obtaining private detective license. In re Harding, 369 A.2d 871, 246 Pa.Super. 180, Super.1977. Detectives ~~3~~ 3

In determining whether an applicant is of such "competency and integrity" that a detective license should be granted, court should, inter alia, determine whether applicant is a person experienced in essentials of the business, acquainted with the methods and habits of criminals, familiar with the privileges and duties of officers charged with their pursuit and arrest, and possessed of the requisite courage, moderation, coolness and integrity to act judicially and efficiently in trying situations. License of McAlanis, 23 Northumb.L.J 223, 79 Pa. D. & C. 603 (1952). Detectives ~~3~~ 3

Petitioner would not be licensed private detective where testimony established that as chief of police he made only two arrests for liquor law violations in two years, that he was dismissed from that office, that he was defeated at election for constable. Tressell's Application, 5 Wash. 21, 38 York, 133, 17 Del. 27, 1924.

Act of 1887, May 23, P.L. 173, prohibited the appointment of a private detective, without proof satisfactory to the court of the competency and integrity of the applicant, Burnett's Application, 17 C.C. 394, 5 Dist. 3, 9 York, 188, 13 Lanc. 199, 1895; Richey's Petition, 13 Dist. 400, 1904; the test was the competency of the applicant, and not the necessity for the appointment, Smith's Petition, 5 Dist. 465, 1896; the application should furnish affirmative and convincing proof of experience and other qualifications; and proofs flagrantly deficient would justify the court in refusing the application, Fierro's Application, 12 Luz.L.Reg.Rep. 278, 1904, affirmative and convincing proof must be furnished that applicant for license had proper qualifications. Roth's Case, 7 Leh. 342, 31 York 149, 1917.

4. Grounds for refusal to license

A mere allegation, unsupported by evidence, that if the license be granted it will interfere with the due administration of justice, is not ground for refusing the license. Amour's Application, 1 Dist. 620, 1892. See Commonwealth v. Reilly, 21 C.C. 160, 9 Kulp, 163, 1898; Commonwealth v. Steigerwalt, 18 Lanc. 301, 1901.

Prohibition of this act against issuance of license to any person who has been convicted in this state or any other state or territory of a felony applied to individuals who were convicted of felonies in federal courts. Petition of McMillan, 465 A.2d 1052, 319 Pa.Super. 59, Super.1983. Detectives ~~3~~ 3

Though lower court erred in basing its denial of detective agency's application for reissuance of its license on failure of agency to submit monthly reports of its hiring and firing as requested by district attorney's office, where it was possible that lower court would have reached same conclusion based on other evidence in record, it was necessary to remand case to lower court for purpose of determining whether other evidence in record warranted a denial of application. Com. v. Aljia Dumas Private Detective Agency, Inc., 369 A.2d 850, 246 Pa.Super. 140, Super.1977. Appeal And Error ~~3~~ 1177(9)

5. Incompatible offices

As a matter of public policy, it is incompatible for one having authority of a constable to carry on business of private detective, and detective's license was properly suspended so long as holder should remain a constable. In re Stanley, 201 A.2d 287, 204 Pa.Super. 29, Super.1964. Detectives ~~3~~ 3

A private detective's license should not be issued to an applicant partnership where one of the partners is actively engaged in police work, since he would have access to records not ordinarily available to a private detective and could exert influence in opening various doors leading to certain information not normally available to a private detective. License of Robinson, 75 Pa. D. & C.2d 476 (1976). Detectives ~~3~~ 3

6. Burden of proof

As instigator of proceedings to revoke license to carry on private detective business, the Commonwealth bore burden of proving licensee's lack of requisite qualifications by preponderance of evidence. In re Sentry Sec., Inc., 393 A.2d 880, 259 Pa.Super. 385, Super.1978, affirmed 417 A.2d 190, 490 Pa. 578. Detectives ~~3~~ 3

Burden of proving that applicant had been guilty of conduct unbecoming a person charged with the duties of a detective, and should not therefore be granted a license, was upon remonstrant. License of McAlanis, 23 Northumb.L.J 223, 79 Pa. D. & C. 603 (1952). Detectives ~~3~~ 3

7. Powers of licensees

A private detective, not being a police officer or constable, has no right, not possessed by an ordinary citizen, to make an arrest. Application of Niehoff, 48 Berks 286, 70 York 135, 9 Pa. D. & C.2d 410 (1957). Arrest ~~3~~ 62

22 P.S. § 16

The act of 1887, May 23, P.L. 173, which empowered private detectives to serve warrants in criminal cases, has been repealed by the Private Detective Act under which private detectives no longer have any authority to serve such warrants, and the court will strongly disapprove of private detectives being in any way connected with the service of warrants or the actual arrest of an individual charged with a crime. Application of Niehoff, 48 Berks 286, 70 York 135, 9 Pa. D. & C.2d 410 (1957). Arrest ~~65~~ 65

Private detectives appointed by a court of quarter sessions under act of 1887, May 23, P.L. 173, § 2, were not public officers and had no police rights not possessed by private citizens. In re Licensed Detectives, 39 Berks 270, 60 Pa. D. & C. 544 (1947). Detectives ~~4~~ 4

A detective cannot serve a warrant issued by a magistrate, and a constable to whom it is issued cannot delegate his authority to the detective. Commonwealth v. Blankenmeyer, 19 Lanc. 87, 3 J.P. 32, 1901.

Act of 1887, May 23, P.L. 173, authorized a detective to serve warrants, but not to make arrests, and his sureties could not be held liable for false arrests or malicious prosecutions made by him. Commonwealth v. Steigerwalt, 18 Lanc. 301, 1901.

8. Bonds

Plaintiff could not recover from surety on detective agency's bond for breach of duty occurring before date thereof, though unable to say that default existed before bond was given. Com. v. Standard Acc. Ins. Co. of Detroit, Mich., 161 A. 895, 105 Pa.Super. 358, Super.1932. Detectives ~~3~~ 3

Surety's liability on detective agency's bond for principal's breach of duty before execution of new bond continued thereafter. Com. v. Standard Acc. Ins. Co. of Detroit, Mich., 161 A. 895, 105 Pa.Super. 358, Super.1932. Detectives ~~3~~ 3

9. Fees and costs

A detective employed by a justice of the peace to serve and execute a warrant of arrest and commitment is entitled to the same fees as a constable. McClain v. Lawrence County, 14 Pa.Super. 273, 1900.

The county is not liable for the costs in cases where a detective lodges information and serves warrants and the defendants are discharged. Kerschner v. Berks County, 8 C.C. 347, 7 Lanc. 264, 1890.

10. Grounds for discipline of licensee

Pennsylvania Private Detective Act does not expressly preclude private parties from allocating risk of loss between themselves; thus, portion of contract between security agent and client which limited liability of security company to $50,000 for damage to client's property caused by intentional acts of agency's employees was not void as against public policy. Knouse Foods Co-op., Inc. v. Burns Intern. Knouse Foods Co-op., Inc. v. Burns Intern. Sec. Services, Inc., E.D.Pa.1981, 519 F.Supp. 867. Contracts ~~114~~ 114

Fact that defendants, two of whom were licensed under state Private Detective Act, were authorized by state statute to detain plaintiff whom they suspected of shoplifting did not mean that defendants were acting "under color of state law", and damages could not be recovered on theory defendants had violated civil rights statutes. Weyandt v. Mason's Stores, Inc., W.D.Pa.1968, 279 F.Supp. 283. Civil Rights ~~1326(9)~~ 1326(9)

Investigations of validity of personal injury claim is in the best interest of society, and the following of a subject during his or her daily activities and recording on film movements and whereabouts of a subject is consonant with wording of the Private Detective Act and social purpose of exposing fabricated claims, and such activity does not give rise to a cause of action for invasion of privacy. Forster v. Manchester, 189 A.2d 147, 410 Pa. 192, Sup.1963. Torts ~~8.5(4)~~ 8.5(4)

In larceny prosecution of private detective, trial court properly refused his requested instruction that an officer making an arrest pursuant to a legal warrant is presumed to be acting lawfully, in view of the fact that this title under which private detective was licensed does not make him a "public officer". Com. v. Quinn, 19 A.2d 526, 144 Pa.Super. 400, Super.1941. Criminal Law ~~Case~~ 778(1)

Where person licensed as detective has been guilty of alluring person to commit crime in order to procure evidence for his customer, his license will be revoked. Cameron's Case, 25 Dist. 917, 1916.

(f) Within five days after the filing of such fingerprints, the court of quarter sessions shall cause such fingerprints to be compared with fingerprints of criminals now or hereafter filed in the records of the Pennsylvania State Police, and if the court finds any record affecting such prints, it shall immediately notify the holder of such license certificate and shall also refer the matter to the district attorney of the county. The quarter sessions court may also from time to time, cause such fingerprints to be checked against the fingerprints of criminals now or hereafter filed in the records of the Pennsylvania State Police or of other official fingerprint files within or without this Commonwealth, and if the court finds that such person has been convicted of a felony or any other offense specified in subsection (a) of this section, he shall immediately notify the holder of such license certificate and shall also refer the matter to <sup>3</sup> the district attorney.
