MEMORANDUM OPINION BY JUDGE BUTLER

FILED: June 17, 2009

Peter F. Smith (Smith) appeals from the April 22, 2008 order of the Court of Common Pleas of Clearfield County (trial court) ultimately qualifying Michael Rudella (Rudella) as the only remaining party eligible to buy the property at issue for an amount equal to the upset value as of the date of purchase, plus all additional costs incurred by the Tax Claim Bureau (Bureau). The issues before this Court are whether the trial court erred as a matter of law or abused its discretion in determining that Smith was not qualified to participate in an auction-style sale for the coal rights, and whether the trial court erred as a matter of law or abused its discretion in failing to fix a minimum price as required by statute. For the reasons that follow, we affirm the trial court.

Smith Coal Company (Company) owns 100 acres of coal rights in Clearfield County. The Company failed to pay real estate taxes for approximately thirteen years. Multiple public sales did not result in the purchase of the rights but, on February 7, 2007, Rudella submitted a private bid of $200.00 to purchase the coal rights. Rudella's bid was to be accepted at a private sale on December 27, 2007. On November 14, 2007, Smith, who is a shareholder in the Company, filed a Petition to Disapprove the Private Sale. The trial court issued an order on November 13, 2007 disapproving the private sale to Rudella, and ordering the Bureau to conduct an auction-style sale between Smith and Rudella with a starting price of not less than $1,928.11.

Rudella filed a Motion to Rescind Court Order and Disqualify Bidder, requesting a hearing on the disapproval of the private sale, and asking the trial court to determine that Smith was not qualified to bid at the auction-style sale pursuant to Sections 618 and 619 of the Real Estate Tax Sale Law (Tax Sale Law)<sup>1</sup> because he was the owner of the property. Smith filed an answer to Rudella's motion wherein he admitted that he was ineligible to participate in the auction-style sale pursuant to Section 618 of the Tax Sale Law. On February 25, 2008, Rudella filed a Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings relative to his Motion to Disqualify Bidder. The trial court scheduled argument for March 3, 2008. At the hearing, Smith changed his position and claimed that he may have the right to bid at an auction-style sale.

Following the hearing and the submission of briefs, the trial court entered an order: (1) rescinding the trial court's November 13, 2007 order disapproving the private sale; (2) disapproving the private sale to Rudella for $200.00; (3) ruling that the provisions of Section 613<sup>2</sup> of the Tax Sale Law do not allow an owner to participate in an auction-style sale as a “party to the proceeding”; (4) granting Rudella’s Motion to Rescind Court Order and Disqualify Bidder; (5) dismissing, as procedurally incorrect, Rudella’s Motion for Judgment of the Pleadings; and (6) identifying Rudella as the only remaining party qualified to buy the property for an amount equal to the upset value as of the date of purchase, plus all additional costs incurred by the Bureau. Smith appealed to this Court.<sup>3</sup>

Section 619 was added by Act of January 29, 1998, P.L. 24, 72 P.S. § 5860.619. While Rudella mentioned Section 619 in the instant appeal, the trial court did not address it, and it was not addressed in detail in any of the briefs filed in this Court in the instant matter; therefore, Section 619 will not be addressed in this opinion.

Smith argues that Section 613 of the Tax Sale Law expressly authorizes property owners to petition the court for disapproval of a private sale, and thereby enables owners to participate as a party in proceedings, such as an auction-style sale.

Section 613(a) of the Tax Sale Law states in relevant part:

The corporate authorities of any taxing district having any tax claims or tax judgments against the property which is to be sold, the owner, an interested party, or a person interested in purchasing the property may, if not satisfied that the sale price approved by the bureau is sufficient, within forty-five (45) days after notice of the proposed sale, petition the court of common pleas of the county to disapprove the sale.

(Emphasis added). However, Section 618 of the Tax Sale Law prohibits an owner from purchasing his own property at a judicial or private sale. Smith has an ownership interest in the coal rights at issue in this case. Reproduced Record (R.R.) at 52a. He filed a petition to disapprove the private sale, indicating that the bid of $200.00 by Rudella was insufficient to cover outstanding taxes. R.R. at 10a. There is no dispute that Smith had a right to petition to disapprove the sale of the coal rights for $200.00, pursuant to Section 613(a) of the Tax Sale Law. However, he argues that this section also makes him a “party to the proceedings” which allows him to bid on the property. We disagree.

<sup>3</sup> The appellate standard of review in a tax sale case is limited to determining whether the trial court abused its discretion, rendered a decision lacking supporting evidence, or clearly erred as a matter of law. Santarelli Real Estate, Inc. v. Tax Claim Bureau of Lackawanna County, 867 A.2d 717 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2005).

Finding that an owner is allowed to participate in an auction-style sale as established in Section 613 of the Tax Sale Law simply because he is a “party to the proceedings,” would defeat the purpose of Section 618 of the Tax Sale Law. In addition, Section 613(a) of the Tax Sale Law states: “If the sale is disapproved, the court shall at the same time fix a price below which such property shall not be sold and order that, if no private sale can be arranged, the property be sold at public judicial sale under this act.” (Emphasis added). Section 618 of the Tax Sale Law specifically states that an owner may not purchase his own property at a judicial sale under the provisions of this act. Since the only types of sales allowed under Section 613(a) of the Tax Sale Law are judicial or private sales, the owner will never be allowed to participate in the purchase of the property.<sup>4</sup> The auction-style sale is merely a means of carrying out either the judicial or private sale required in Section 613(a) of the Tax Sale Law. Therefore, the trial court did not err as a matter of law or abuse its discretion in determining that Smith was not eligible to participate in the auction-style sale of the coal rights at issue.

Smith also argues that the trial court’s order did not fix a minimum sale price as required by Section 613(a) of the Tax Sale Law. Section 613(a) of the Tax Sale Law states, in relevant part:

If the sale is disapproved, the court shall at the same time fix a price below which such property shall not be sold and order that, if no private sale can be arranged, the property be sold at public judicial sale under this act. If more than one party agrees to pay the minimum price set by the court, the court shall direct the bureau to conduct an auction-style

bid of the property among the parties to the proceedings. If only one party agrees to pay the minimum price set by the court, the bureau shall sell the property to that party without the necessity of an auction.

(Emphasis added). In the present case, the trial court did set a minimum price, although it is not spelled out in the order. The trial court's order included that following instruction: "Michael Rudella, as the only remaining party qualified to buy the property, shall have the right to purchase the coal rights for an amount equal to the full upset price as of the date of purchase, plus all additional costs incurred by the Tax Claim Bureau." R.R. at 60a (emphasis added). The trial court determined that Smith was ineligible to purchase the coal rights. In doing so, the only interested party remaining was Rudella. While the trial court did not specifically use language such as "the minimum price will be . . . ," it did indicate that Rudella would have to purchase the coal rights at the full upset price plus costs. That is the lowest amount the Bureau would accept for the purchase of the coal rights and, since there were no other parties to participate in an auction-style sale, it is the price that will have to be paid by Rudella if Rudella is to purchase the coal rights. Therefore, the trial court did not fail to fix a minimum price as required by statute.

For the reasons stated, the trial court's order is affirmed.

PETITIONER'S BRIEF

Two overarching facts emerged at hearing of this Petition on Wednesday, November 19, 2008. First, none of the parties entitled to notice of Mr. Rudella's private bid received accurate notification. That included Mr. Rudella himself. The parties did not receive proper notice because the letters sent to them by the Tax Claim Bureau misidentified the subject property. Second, no one involved recognized those errors for almost a year until it was inadvertently called to Petitioner's attention in September of this year.

Petitioner's Exhibit D contains the file of this matter produced by the Tax Claim Bureau. The notice to Mr. Rudella states the owner to be "Shawville Coal," and that the property is in section "N06." The notices to Smith Coal Company (the taxpayer), the Clearfield County Commissioners, the Clearfield Area School District and the Goshen Township Supervisor follow. They all make reference to the incorrect section number by using "N06."

All agree that the subject assessment is in section "N05."

In order to pass a good title, a tax sale must fulfill two essential requirements. First, those entitled to notice of the sale must be notified as required by the governing statute, and second the property subject to sale must be accurately described. Often the issues of notice and description are intertwined. That is the case here. The taxpayer and the petitioner knew that a private bid had been submitted but were misinformed as to the particular parcel.

The misinformation has been extremely counterproductive and has caused a duplication of litigation.

No one disputes that these mistakes can be easily be made. Three sets of lawyers and three sets of clients examined the materials in the other case. It has gone all the way to the Commonwealth Court before the error was detected.

In this instance, the notice requirement for a valid private sale is contained in Section 72 P.S. §5860.613. Failure to give notice of a Private Tax Sale to the local taxing authorities rendered a conveyance of the property void ab initio. County of Schuylkill, Reilly Twp. v. Ryon, 143 Pa. Cmwlth. 285, 598 A.2d 1075 (1991), appeal denied 530 Pa. 662, 609 A.2d 169. The statutory notice requirements must be strictly followed to avoid stripping a taxpayer of his property without due process of law. Marsh v. Banus, 395 Pa. 629 151 A.2d 612 (1959).

“Whether or not an assessment, or notice of sale, of realty for taxes adequately described the properties depended upon a number of circumstances, among which is ... whether there are other lands in the same vicinity owned by the same person.” In Re Tax Sale of Bolen’s Real Estate, 393 Pa. 377, 379; 143 A.2d 339, 341 (1958), citing Humphrey v. Clark, 359 Pa. 250, 255, 58 A.2d 836, 839. As shown by Mr. Rudella’s Exhibit 6, the Smith Coal Company had two parcels under the Goshen Township section of the Private Sale List.

These errors have prejudiced the taxpayer and the Petitioner. The Tax Claim Bureau notified the Smith Coal Company of the private bid by the letter dated October 26, 2007. The statute grants parties in interest 45 days to file a Petition to Disapprove the Sale. 72 P.S. §5860.613(a). A timely petition was filed, but it concerned the other, incorrect tax map number.

The Court may be inclined to deny this Petition, but that will not remedy the defects which underlie the bid for the parcel at issue here, Tax Map Number 105-N05-000-00008 MN. Nor will it remedy the defect in the other proceeding brought by the Petitioner at Clearfield County Number 07-1865-CD which it is on appeal to the Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania. Only a bad title and further dispute can emerge.

The hands of time cannot be turned back. Therefore Petition for this sale must be halted respectfully.

Respectfully submitted,

CONCISE STATEMENT OF MATTERS COMPLAINED OF

COMES NOW Plaintiff, who pursuant to this Court's Order entered June 6, 2008 and pursuant to P.A.R.A.P. 1925(b) states:

The Court disapproved a Private Sale under 72 P.S. §5860.613 but erred as a matter of law and abused its discretion by:

- A) Failing to fix a minimum price; and,
- B) Disqualifying the property owner from bidding; and,
- C) Failing to order, in the first instance an auction-style bid among the parties, and if the property is not so sold, then direct that a private sale be arranged, and if the property is not so sold, then to sell it at public judicial sale, all to start at the minimum price fixed by the Court;

All as directed by the statute at 72 P.S. §5860.613.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff submits these matters for appeal.

Respectfully submitted,

OPINION and ORDER

Smith Coal Company is the owner of 100 acres of coal rights identified by Clearfield County Assessment No. 115-N06-000-00008 MN. The company had failed or forgotten to pay real estate taxes on the assessment. The rights were not purchased at public sale and on or about February 7, 2007 Michael A. Rudella ("Rudella") submitted a private bid of $200.00 to the Tax Claim Bureau to purchase the coal rights. Rudella's bid was to be accepted at a private sale to be held on December 27, 2007 at the Tax Claim Bureau. On November 14, 2007 Peter F. Smith ("Smith") filed a Petition to Disapprove the Private Sale. Mr. Smith is a shareholder of Smith Coal Company. As a result of Smith's petition, the Court issued an Order dated November 13, 2007 (filed November 14, 2007) disapproving the private sale to Mr. Rudella for $200.00 and ordering the Tax Claim Bureau to conduct an auction style bid sale between Mr. Smith and Mr. Rudella with the starting price to be not less than $1,928.11. This was the amount of all taxes, penalties and interest due on the tax assessment at that time.

Rudella thereafter filed a Motion to Rescind Court Order and Motion to Disqualify Bidder. In the said Motion Rudella requested a hearing on the disapproval of the private sale and asked the Court to make a determination that Smith, as an individual having an interest in Smith Coal Company, is not qualified to bid at an auction sale pursuant to the provisions of 72 P.S. §5860.618 and §5860.619. Thereafter Smith filed a Response to

Mr. Rudella's motion where in paragraph 14 he in essence admitted that he was not eligible under the provisions of §5860.618 to bid at the auction sale. On February 25, 2008 Rudella filed a Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings relative his Motion to Disqualify Bidder, and the Court ultimately scheduled argument on the various motions for March 3, 2008. Rudella appeared at the hearing represented by counsel. Mr. Smith also appeared and the Court notes that he is a Clearfield County attorney. The Tax Claim Bureau was represented by the county solicitor. At the hearing Smith changed his position and claimed that he may have the right to bid at an auction style sale. The Court ordered briefs which have now been received and the matter is set for decision.<sup>1</sup>

The first option available to the Court in this case is to approve the proposed sale to Rudella for his bid of $200.00 notwithstanding Smith's Petition to Disapprove and his offer to pay the upset price. Section 613 requires the Court to exercise its independent judgment as to whether a proposed sale is both just and proper under the circumstances of the case and allows the Court great latitude in making this determination. Fieg vs. Somerset County Tax Claim Bureau, 658 A.2d 476 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1995). The fact that the property owner offers to pay all back taxes after a proposed purchaser makes a lesser offer at private sale does not mandate that the Court disapprove the private sale. Getson vs. Somerset County Tax Claim Bureau, 696 A.2d 903 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1997); Mehalic vs. Westmoreland County Tax Claim Bureau, 534 A.2d 157 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1987).

While the Court has the power to approve the private sale to Rudella, the Tax Claim Bureau is not requesting that this Court do so if through the bidding process the Tax Claim Bureau can receive full payment of the taxes. Here, under the provisions of

<sup>1</sup> This Court notes that the provisions of 72 P.S. §5860.619 are clearly inapplicable to the Court's review of this case. Therefore, the Court will not further consider that statute and will confine its' analysis to §5860.618.

72 P.S. §5860.613(a), it would not be "just and proper" for the Court to approve the $200.00 offer by Rudella. This amount is only 10% of the total tax liability and is clearly insufficient. In fact, this Court has routinely disapproved sales and ordered an auction where there are competitive bidders and the initial offer is inadequate.

The primary issue to be decided is whether the Court may allow a property owner who has filed a petition to disapprove a private sale under 72 P.S. §5860.613 to participate in a court ordered auction sale notwithstanding 72 P.S. §5860.618, which reads:

§5860.618 Repurchase by owner.

- a. The owner shall have no right to purchase his own property at a judicial sale, a private sale or from the Bureau's repository for unsold property under the provisions of this act.

It is apparent from a review of decisional authority that this Court has broad discretion under Section 613. However, does this discretion include authority to permit an owner to participate in an auction under Section 613?

In this regard Section 613 provides:

If the sale is disapproved, the court shall at the same time fix a price below which such property shall not be sold and order that, if no private sale can be arranged, the property be sold at public judicial sale under this act. If more than one party agrees to pay the minimum price set by the court, the court shall direct the bureau to conduct an auction-style bid of the property among the parties to the proceedings. (emphasis added)

Section 613 requires notice of the proposed private sale to the owner and permits the owner "if not satisfied that the sale price approved by the bureau is sufficient, within forty-five (45) days after notice of the proposed sale, petition the court of common pleas of the county to disapprove the sale." Certainly, an owner who files a petition to disapprove a private sale is a party to the proceedings. However, Rudella argues that the owner cannot participate in the auction because Section 618 provides that the owner "shall have no right to purchase his own property at a judicial sale, private sale or from the bureau repository. . ."

A Court ordered auction sale is not a judicial sale which is a separate option available to the Court if it disapproves the private sale. However, is a Court ordered auction a private sale within Section 5860.618?

On one side of this issue, it is hard to distinguish between a judicial sale, a private sale and a court ordered auction. However, it can be argued that Section 618 limits the rights of the owner not the authority of the Court. Getson and Mehalic confirm that an owner has no right to block a private sale by offering to cure the delinquency. In a Court ordered auction, the owner is not participating by right but by permission of the Court. Moreover, as Smith points out in his brief, what is the sense of allowing the owner to challenge the bid price if the owner may not submit a bid? How are the taxing districts benefited by prohibiting an owner's bid rather than allowing the Court to determine the issue? If the owner is prohibited from participating in a Court ordered auction, one would expect to see that as a determining factor in the Mehalic and Getson cases cited above.

In Mehalic the tax delinquency was $5,374.90 and an offer to purchase the property at private sale for $3,250.00 was made. The owners filed a petition to disapprove upon the basis that they were able to begin to pay all taxes and costs. The lower court approved the proposed private sale and the Commonwealth Court affirmed. The Appellants placed great emphasis on the fact that they were willing to enter into an agreement with the Bureau to now begin repaying the delinquent taxes. The Commonwealth Court held that the decision to accept any compromise of delinquent taxes, however, is wholly in the discretion of the taxing authorities.

While affirming the decision of the lower court to uphold the private sale, the Commonwealth Court noted that the bid offered by the prospective purchaser represented 76% of the taxes due and "the Appellants did not submit a bid of their own to purchase the property at the private sale . . . ." Mehalic, page 159. This language seems to confirm the ability of an owner to bid during a private sale but also conflicts with the language of § 5860.618 wherein an owner is prohibited from purchasing his own property at a private sale.

In Getson, after the private sale bid was received and advertised by the Tax Claim Bureau, the owner filed a petition "for redemption of tax sale" challenging the sale; this petition was denied by the lower court. The Commonwealth Court affirmed, holding that the authority under which the owner filed her petition was applicable to an upset sale not a private sale which is governed by Section 613 and which restricts the owner to filing a petition to disapprove the sale. However, the Court wrote:

Under Section 613, once a property had been offered at private sale and a proposed purchaser had made an offer, the original property owner cannot thwart the sale by offering all back taxes and penalties. Because that right was certainly extinguished by time Brandt had made her offer for the property, if not before, all that Section 613 gives the property owners the right to challenge the sufficiency of the sale price. Just because Getson was willing to pay back the taxes did not require that the proposed private sale be disapproved. Mehalic v. Westmoreland County Tax Claim Bureau, 534 A.2d 157 (1987). Rather, the decision to accept or reject any proposed compromise of delinquent taxes is wholly within the discretion of the taxing authority. Getson, pages 905-906.

If the Bureau can accept a proposed compromise of the taxes from the owner after a private sale bid is received, accepted and advertised, why can't the Court allow the owner to participate in a Section 613 auction? Why did the Courts in Mehalic and Getson not merely state that the owner was prohibited from repurchasing the property?

In his brief Smith points to the case of Feig v. Somerset County Tax Claim Bureau, supra, as standing for the proposition that an owner is permitted to bid at the auction sale. Smith references the Commonwealth Court's statement on page 477 that "... if more than one party appeared to offer the price set by the court " and claims that since owners are parties to the proceeding the conclusion to be drawn is that owners can bid. Smith then points out the Commonwealth Court's reference on page 479 of the decision where the bid in Mehalic was upheld when "... the owners that petitioned for disapproval offered no bid of their own. . . .".

In Feig, the appellant offered to purchase the property at private sale for an amount equal to one hundred percent of all outstanding taxes due on the property as well as the Tax Claim Bureau's processing costs. The Bureau approved the sale. The appellees filed a petition to disapprove the tax sale alleging that the property's value exceeded the amount of the appellant's bid and that the appellee was willing to pay a much greater amount. The Court of Common Pleas of Somerset County disapproved the private sale, ordered an auction sale with the minimum bid to be $15,000.00. An auction sale was to take place "if more than one party appeared to offer the price set by the court." It is significant to note that in Feig, neither the appellant or the appellee was the owner of the property in question. The Commonwealth Court held that the trial court acted correctly in disapproving the sale and noted that even where the taxing bodies will be made whole by a proposed bid, when a property owner or other interested person petitions for disapproval the trial court should look at all of the circumstances. A determination to approve or disapprove should be made based upon what is just and proper. The Commonwealth Court confirmed that where another party has made a bid which is more equivalent with the actual value of the real estate and would provide potential financial return to lien holders and/or the property owner under 72 P.S. § 5860.205(d) the lower court may disapprove a private bid equal to the upset price. This Court notes that other than the reference to Mehalic, the Feig decision does not stand for the proposition that an owner may bid at an auction sale ordered by the court.

It is certainly true that neither Mehalic or Getson are on all fours here and this Court has been unable to find any decisional authority directly on point. This being said, the Court believes that the Commonwealth Court's language in Getson is determinative. Section 5860.618 clearly indicates that an owner has no right to purchase his own property at a private sale. An auction sale ordered by the court to take place between the parties to the legal proceedings following the filing of a petition to disapprove clearly is a private sale, whether it involves an auction style bid or not. Any interested individual, partnership or corporation can file a petition to disapprove a private sale under the provisions of § 5860.618, not just an owner to the property. The decision in Getson states quite clearly that once a property has been offered at a private sale and an offer has been made, the property owner cannot reacquire the property by offering all back taxes and penalties, as this right has been extinguished by the time the proceedings reach a private sale. It makes no sense to this Court that a property owner's rights which have been extinguished can be regained merely by filing a petition with the court and obtaining another private sale in the form of an auction. Under this scenario, the owner of the property would almost always be in a position to prevail due to the statutory distribution scheme mandated in § 5860.205(d). This would directly conflict with the statutory language set forth in § 5860.618. Such a result should be disapproved, as the legislature is presumed to have no intention to adopt conflicting provisions in the same statute. In re Annexation Ordinance No. 242 of the Bureau of Lemoyne, 107 A.2d 149 (Pa.Super. 1954).

Lastly, Smith claims that he is entitled to have a hearing before the Court to present information as to the actual value of the coal rights to be sold. The only possible purpose of submitting such information to the Court would be to request the Court to set a minimum bid price equivalent to the value of the property rights. Smith has set forth no statute or legal precedent for this position. This Court has been unable to find any legal authority permitting this procedure. While it is true that in Feig the appellee submitted a bid well above that of the upset price and costs, Feig clearly does not stand for the proposition that the court can accept evidence from the owner as to value and set the minimum price based thereon. This position, if adopted by the Court, would seem to nullify the right of third parties to realistically bid on property following the failure of the owner to pay the real estate taxes.

ORDER

NOW, this 22nd day of April, 2008, it is the ORDER of this Court as follows:

1. The Court's Order of November 13, 2007 is hereby rescinded.
2. The private sale to Michael Rudella for $200.00 is disapproved.

4. The Motion to Rescind Court Order and to Disqualify Bidder filed on behalf of Michael Rudella is hereby granted.
5. The Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings filed by Michael Rudella is dismissed as procedurally incorrect.
6. Michael Rudella, as the only remaining party qualified to buy the property, shall have the right to purchase the coal rights for an amount equal to the full upset price as of the date of purchase, plus all additional costs incurred by the Tax Claim Bureau.

OPINION and ORDER

Smith Coal Company is the owner of 100 acres of coal rights identified by Clearfield County Assessment No. 115-N06-000-00008 MN. The company had failed or forgotten to pay real estate taxes on the assessment. The rights were not purchased at public sale and on or about February 7, 2007 Michael A. Rudella ("Rudella") submitted a private bid of $200.00 to the Tax Claim Bureau to purchase the coal rights. Rudella's bid was to be accepted at a private sale to be held on December 27, 2007 at the Tax Claim Bureau. On November 14, 2007 Peter F. Smith ("Smith") filed a Petition to Disapprove the Private Sale. Mr. Smith is a shareholder of Smith Coal Company. As a result of Smith's petition, the Court issued an Order dated November 13, 2007 (filed November 14, 2007) disapproving the private sale to Mr. Rudella for $200.00 and ordering the Tax Claim Bureau to conduct an auction style bid sale between Mr. Smith and Mr. Rudella with the starting price to be not less than $1,928.11. This was the amount of all taxes, penalties and interest due on the tax assessment at that time.

Rudella thereafter filed a Motion to Rescind Court Order and Motion to Disqualify Bidder. In the said Motion Rudella requested a hearing on the disapproval of the private sale and asked the Court to make a determination that Smith, as an individual having an interest in Smith Coal Company, is not qualified to bid at an auction sale pursuant to the provisions of 72 P.S. §5860.618 and §5860.619. Thereafter Smith filed a Response to

Mr. Rudella's motion where in paragraph 14 he in essence admitted that he was not eligible under the provisions of §5860.618 to bid at the auction sale. On February 25, 2008 Rudella filed a Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings relative his Motion to Disqualify Bidder, and the Court ultimately scheduled argument on the various motions for March 3, 2008. Rudella appeared at the hearing represented by counsel. Mr. Smith also appeared and the Court notes that he is a Clearfield County attorney. The Tax Claim Bureau was represented by the county solicitor. At the hearing Smith changed his position and claimed that he may have the right to bid at an auction style sale. The Court ordered briefs which have now been received and the matter is set for decision.<sup>1</sup>

The first option available to the Court in this case is to approve the proposed sale to Rudella for his bid of $200.00 notwithstanding Smith's Petition to Disapprove and his offer to pay the upset price. Section 613 requires the Court to exercise its independent judgment as to whether a proposed sale is both just and proper under the circumstances of the case and allows the Court great latitude in making this determination. Fieg vs. Somerset County Tax Claim Bureau, 658 A.2d 476 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1995). The fact that the property owner offers to pay all back taxes after a proposed purchaser makes a lesser offer at private sale does not mandate that the Court disapprove the private sale. Getson vs. Somerset County Tax Claim Bureau, 696 A.2d 903 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1997); Mehalic vs. Westmoreland County Tax Claim Bureau, 534 A.2d 157 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1987).

While the Court has the power to approve the private sale to Rudella, the Tax Claim Bureau is not requesting that this Court do so if through the bidding process the Tax Claim Bureau can receive full payment of the taxes. Here, under the provisions of

<sup>1</sup> This Court notes that the provisions of 72 P.S. §5860.619 are clearly inapplicable to the Court's review of this case. Therefore, the Court will not further consider that statute and will confine its' analysis to §5860.618.

72 P.S. §5860.613(a), it would not be "just and proper" for the Court to approve the $200.00 offer by Rudella. This amount is only 10% of the total tax liability and is clearly insufficient. In fact, this Court has routinely disapproved sales and ordered an auction where there are competitive bidders and the initial offer is inadequate.

The primary issue to be decided is whether the Court may allow a property owner who has filed a petition to disapprove a private sale under 72 P.S. §5860.613 to participate in a court ordered auction sale notwithstanding 72 P.S. §5860.618, which reads:

§5860.618 Repurchase by owner.

- a. The owner shall have no right to purchase his own property at a judicial sale, a private sale or from the Bureau's repository for unsold property under the provisions of this act.

It is apparent from a review of decisional authority that this Court has broad discretion under Section 613. However, does this discretion include authority to permit an owner to participate in an auction under Section 613?

In this regard Section 613 provides:

If the sale is disapproved, the court shall at the same time fix a price below which such property shall not be sold and order that, if no private sale can be arranged, the property be sold at public judicial sale under this act. If more than one party agrees to pay the minimum price set by the court, the court shall direct the bureau to conduct an auction-style bid of the property among the parties to the proceedings. (emphasis added)

Section 613 requires notice of the proposed private sale to the owner and permits the owner "if not satisfied that the sale price approved by the bureau is sufficient, within forty-five (45) days after notice of the proposed sale, petition the court of common pleas of the county to disapprove the sale." Certainly, an owner who files a petition to disapprove a private sale is a party to the proceedings. However, Rudella argues that the owner cannot participate in the auction because Section 618 provides that the owner "shall have no right to purchase his own property at a judicial sale, private sale or from the bureau repository. . ."

A Court ordered auction sale is not a judicial sale which is a separate option available to the Court if it disapproves the private sale. However, is a Court ordered auction a private sale within Section 5860.618?

On one side of this issue, it is hard to distinguish between a judicial sale, a private sale and a court ordered auction. However, it can be argued that Section 618 limits the rights of the owner not the authority of the Court. Getson and Mehalic confirm that an owner has no right to block a private sale by offering to cure the delinquency. In a Court ordered auction, the owner is not participating by right but by permission of the Court. Moreover, as Smith points out in his brief, what is the sense of allowing the owner to challenge the bid price if the owner may not submit a bid? How are the taxing districts benefited by prohibiting an owner's bid rather than allowing the Court to determine the issue? If the owner is prohibited from participating in a Court ordered auction, one would expect to see that as a determining factor in the Mehalic and Getson cases cited above.

In Mehalic the tax delinquency was $5,374.90 and an offer to purchase the property at private sale for $3,250.00 was made. The owners filed a petition to disapprove upon the basis that they were able to begin to pay all taxes and costs. The lower court approved the proposed private sale and the Commonwealth Court affirmed. The Appellants placed great emphasis on the fact that they were willing to enter into an agreement with the Bureau to now begin repaying the delinquent taxes. The Commonwealth Court held that the decision to accept any compromise of delinquent taxes, however, is wholly in the discretion of the taxing authorities.

While affirming the decision of the lower court to uphold the private sale, the Commonwealth Court noted that the bid offered by the prospective purchaser represented 76% of the taxes due and "the Appellants did not submit a bid of their own to purchase the property at the private sale . . . ." Mehalic, page 159. This language seems to confirm the ability of an owner to bid during a private sale but also conflicts with the language of § 5860.618 wherein an owner is prohibited from purchasing his own property at a private sale.

In Getson, after the private sale bid was received and advertised by the Tax Claim Bureau, the owner filed a petition "for redemption of tax sale" challenging the sale; this petition was denied by the lower court. The Commonwealth Court affirmed, holding that the authority under which the owner filed her petition was applicable to an upset sale not a private sale which is governed by Section 613 and which restricts the owner to filing a petition to disapprove the sale. However, the Court wrote:

Under Section 613, once a property had been offered at private sale and a proposed purchaser had made an offer, the original property owner cannot thwart the sale by offering all back taxes and penalties. Because that right was certainly extinguished by time Brandt had made her offer for the property, if not before, all that Section 613 gives the property owners the right to challenge the sufficiency of the sale price. Just because Getson was willing to pay back the taxes did not require that the proposed private sale be disapproved. Mehalic v. Westmoreland County Tax Claim Bureau, 534 A.2d 157 (1987). Rather, the decision to accept or reject any proposed compromise of delinquent taxes is wholly within the discretion of the taxing authority. Getson, pages 905-906.

If the Bureau can accept a proposed compromise of the taxes from the owner after a private sale bid is received, accepted and advertised, why can't the Court allow the owner to participate in a Section 613 auction? Why did the Courts in Mehalic and Getson not merely state that the owner was prohibited from repurchasing the property?

In his brief Smith points to the case of Feig v. Somerset County Tax Claim Bureau, supra, as standing for the proposition that an owner is permitted to bid at the auction sale. Smith references the Commonwealth Court's statement on page 477 that "... if more than one party appeared to offer the price set by the court " and claims that since owners are parties to the proceeding the conclusion to be drawn is that owners can bid. Smith then points out the Commonwealth Court's reference on page 479 of the decision where the bid in Mehalic was upheld when "... the owners that petitioned for disapproval offered no bid of their own. ...".

In Feig, the appellant offered to purchase the property at private sale for an amount equal to one hundred percent of all outstanding taxes due on the property as well as the Tax Claim Bureau's processing costs. The Bureau approved the sale. The appellees filed a petition to disapprove the tax sale alleging that the property's value exceeded the amount of the appellant's bid and that the appellee was willing to pay a much greater amount. The Court of Common Pleas of Somerset County disapproved the private sale, ordered an auction sale with the minimum bid to be $15,000.00. An auction sale was to take place "if more than one party appeared to offer the price set by the court." It is significant to note that in Feig, neither the appellant or the appellee was the owner of the property in question. The Commonwealth Court held that the trial court acted correctly in disapproving the sale and noted that even where the taxing bodies will be made whole by a proposed bid, when a property owner or other interested person petitions for disapproval the trial court should look at all of the circumstances. A determination to approve or disapprove should be made based upon what is just and proper. The Commonwealth Court confirmed that where another party has made a bid which is more equivalent with the actual value of the real estate and would provide potential financial return to lien holders and/or the property owner under 72 P.S. § 5860.205(d) the lower court may disapprove a private bid equal to the upset price. This Court notes that other than the reference to Mehalic, the Feig decision does not stand for the proposition that an owner may bid at an auction sale ordered by the court.

It is certainly true that neither Mehalic or Getson are on all fours here and this Court has been unable to find any decisional authority directly on point. This being said, the Court believes that the Commonwealth Court's language in Getson is determinative. Section 5860.618 clearly indicates that an owner has no right to purchase his own property at a private sale. An auction sale ordered by the court to take place between the parties to the legal proceedings following the filing of a petition to disapprove clearly is a private sale, whether it involves an auction style bid or not. Any interested individual, partnership or corporation can file a petition to disapprove a private sale under the provisions of § 5860.618, not just an owner to the property. The decision in Getson states quite clearly that once a property has been offered at a private sale and an offer has been made, the property owner cannot reacquire the property by offering all back taxes and penalties, as this right has been extinguished by the time the proceedings reach a private sale. It makes no sense to this Court that a property owner's rights which have been extinguished can be regained merely by filing a petition with the court and obtaining another private sale in the form of an auction. Under this scenario, the owner of the property would almost always be in a position to prevail due to the statutory distribution scheme mandated in § 5860.205(d). This would directly conflict with the statutory language set forth in § 5860.618. Such a result should be disapproved, as the legislature is presumed to have no intention to adopt conflicting provisions in the same statute. In re Annexation Ordinance No. 242 of the Bureau of Lemoyne, 107 A.2d 149 (Pa.Super. 1954).

Lastly, Smith claims that he is entitled to have a hearing before the Court to present information as to the actual value of the coal rights to be sold. The only possible purpose of submitting such information to the Court would be to request the Court to set a minimum bid price equivalent to the value of the property rights. Smith has set forth no statute or legal precedent for this position. This Court has been unable to find any legal authority permitting this procedure. While it is true that in Feig the appellee submitted a bid well above that of the upset price and costs, Feig clearly does not stand for the proposition that the court can accept evidence from the owner as to value and set the minimum price based thereon. This position, if adopted by the Court, would seem to nullify the right of third parties to realistically bid on property following the failure of the owner to pay the real estate taxes.

3. That the Court further Ordered that auction style bidding be conducted with the Court setting the minimum bid acceptable to be in the amount of $1,928.11.
4. That the instant Petitioner, Michael A. Rudella was the individual who on February 7, 2007, had submitted a private bid of $200.00 to purchase the coal rights assessed at 115-N06-000-00008 MN.
5. That the original Petitioner, Peter F. Smith, timely filed a Petition to Disapprove

Private Sale challenging the sale pursuant to the provisions of 72 P.S. §5860.613.

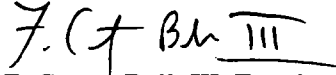

Said Petition is that Petition referred to within Paragraph 1 above.

6. That Michael A. Rudella , on or about December 31, 2007, filed a Motion to Rescind Court Order and Motion to Disqualify Bidder. That hearing on said Motions is currently scheduled for March 3, 2008 at 9:00 A.M..

8. That within Paragraph 14 of the Motion to Disqualify Bidder, Michael A. Rudella averred that the original Petitioner, Peter F. Smith, was disqualified and precluded from bidding pursuant to the provisions of 72 P.S. §5860.618 and 72 P.S. §5860.619. ( A copy of the Motion to Rescind Court Order and Motion to Disqualify Bidder is attached hereto and incorporated herein as Exhibit A.)
9. That within Paragraph 14 of the Response to Mr. Rudella's Motions, original Petitioner, Peter F. Smith admits to his disqualification as to 72 P.S. §5860.618. ( A copy of the Response to Mr. Rudella's Motions is attached hereto and incorporated herein as Exhibit B.)
10. That based upon the above admission by original Petitioner, Peter F. Smith, as set forth above, the Court is now in a position to issue an Order disqualifying the original Petitioner, Peter F. Smith from participation in the bidding. Should said Order be entered, Mr. Rudella may be in a position to withdraw the balance of his Motions and in specific, the Motion to Rescind Court Order such that the hearing on March 3, 2008, might be canceled.

WHEREFORE, the Petitioner, Michael A. Rudella, would respectfully request that your Honorable Court grant Judgment on the Pleadings as to the Motion to Disqualify Bidder only, by issuing an Order that the original Petitioner, Peter F. Smith is disqualified as a bidder.

MOTION TO RESCIND COURT ORDER AND
MOTION TO DISQUALIFY BIDDER

NOW, comes the Petitioner, Michael A. Rudella by and through his attorney, F. Cortez Bell, III, Esquire, who respectfully sets forth the Petitioner's Motion to Rescind Court Order and Motion to Disqualify Bidder avers as follows:

1. That the above captioned matter was originally brought before the Court as a result of a Petition to Disapprove Private Sale filed by the original Petitioner, Peter F. Smith. Said Petition was filed on November 14, 2007.
2. That the Court by Order of November 13, 2007, Ordered and Decreed that the proposed private sale by the Clearfield County Tax Claim Bureau of certain property located at Clearfield County Assessment Map No. 115-N06-000-00008 MN consisting of 100 acres coal rights for the sum of $200.00 was disapproved.
3. That the Court further Ordered that auction style bidding be conducted between the Petitioner, Peter F. Smith and the individual who had originally offered the private bid.
4. That the instant Petitioner, Michael A. Rudella was the individual who on February 7, 2007, had submitted a private bid of $200.00 to purchase the coal rights assessed at 115-N06-000-00008 MN.
5. That notice was provided to the instant Petitioner, Michael A. Rudella, by letter from the Clearfield County Tax Claim Bureau that the private bid had been accepted by the Bureau.

6. That advertisement of the bid and private sale was made by publication within the Clearfield Progress and the Clearfield County Legal Journal on two separate occasions.
7. That the original Petitioner, Peter F. Smith, timely filed a Petition to Disapprove Private Sale challenging the sale pursuant to the provisions of 72 P.S. §5860.613. Said Petition is that Petition referred to within Paragraph 1 above.
8. That the Court, previous to the filing of the Petition with the Court, executed an Order disapproving the sale.
9. That the provisions of 72 P.S. §5860.613 specifically provides that upon the filing of any Petition seeking to disapprove the sale that a hearing shall be held with due and proper notice to the taxing districts involved or effected, the owner, the bureau, the purchaser and any other person who has joined in the Petition. Attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference as Exhibit "A" is a complete copy of 72 P.S. §5860.613.
10. That a review of the Petition to Disapprove Private Sale filed by the original Petitioner, Peter F. Smith, evidences that the Certificate of Service which was attached thereto evidences a copy only having been served on the Tax Claim Bureau and not any of the other parties involved.
11. That the Petitioner herein, Michael A. Rudella would aver that he was never served with a copy of the Petition to Disapprove Private Sale nor was he ever formally served with a copy of the Court Order by which the sale was disapproved. The only knowledge of the matter that was provided to the instant Petitioner was a telephone call received from a member of the staff of the Clearfield County Tax Claim Bureau on December 10, 2007, indicating that the sale had been disapproved by the Court. The Petitioner herein, Michael A. Rudella ultimately went to the Tax Claim Bureau and asked for copies of the Petition to Disapprove of Private Sale and the Court Order Disapproving the Private Sale on December 19, 2007. As of the date of this Motion, no Pleadings, Documents or Orders have ever been formally served on Michael A. Rudella..

12. That as the provisions of the statute, 72 P.S. §5860.613, have not been complied with in that no notice was given to the other parties and no hearing was held, the Order of Court dated August 21, 2007 by which the sale was disapproved must be rescinded.
13. That pursuant to the Court Order entered into as to this matter on November 13, 2007, there is to be a private auction between the Petitioner, Peter F. Smith and the Petitioner, Michael A. Rudella with a starting price of bidding to be the minimum set by the Court of $1,928.11.
14. That the Petitioner, Peter F. Smith is not qualified to bid at said action as he is precluded from bidding pursuant to the provisions of 72 P.S. §5860.618 and 72 P.S. §5860.619. Attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference as Exhibit "B" is a complete copy of said sections.

WHEREFORE, the Petitioner, Michael A. Rudella, would respectfully request that your Honorable Court grant the Motion to Rescind Court Order and/or the Motion to Disqualify Bidder.

Respectfully Submitted,

F. Cortez Bell, III, Esquire
Attorney for Michael A. Rudella

(a) At any time after any property has been exposed to public sale and such property was not sold because no bid was made equal to the upset price, as hereinbefore provided, and whether or not proceedings are initiated pursuant to sections 610 through 612.1,<sup>1</sup> the bureau may, on its own motion, and shall, on the written instructions of any taxing district having any tax claims or tax judgments against said property, agree to sell the property at private sale, at any price approved by the bureau. After such hearing, the court may either confirm or disapprove the sale as to it appears just and proper. If more than one party agrees to pay the minimum price set by the court, the court shall direct the bureau to conduct an auction-style bid of the property among the parties to the proceedings. If only one party agrees to pay the minimum price set by the court, the bureau shall sell the property to that party without the necessity of an auction.

Historical and Statutory Notes

The 1973 amendment substituted the opening phrase of subsection (a) (see the 1986 amendment, post) preceding the words "the bureau may" in lieu of "At any time within one year after any property has been exposed to public sale and such sale is continued because no bid was made equal to the upset price, as herein before provided."

The 1981 amendment, in the fifth sentence of subsec. (a), substituted "forty-five (45)" for "fifteen (15)".

Section 7 of Act 1981, Sept. 26, P.L. 274, No. 92, provides that the amendment to this section "shall take effect January 1, 1982 and be applicable to all sales agreed to on or after the effective date".

The 1986 amendment rewrote subsection (a), which previously read:

"(a) At any time after any property has been exposed to public sale and such sale is not sold because no bid was made equal to the upset price, as hereinbefore provided, and whether or not proceedings are initiated pursuant to sections 610 through 612.1, the bureau may, on its own motion, and shall, on the written instructions of any taxing district having any tax claims or tax judgments against said property, agree to sell the property at private sale, at any price approved by the bureau. Notice of the proposed sale, stating the price and the property proposed to be sold, shall be given to each such taxing district and to the owner of the property. The corporate authorities

RESPONSE

COMES NOW, the Petitioner Peter F. Smith, who responds to the motion submitted on behalf of Michael A. Rudella as follows:

1-8. Admitted.

9. This paragraph asserts a legal principal to which no response is required. Petitioner further avers that the Court conducted such proceedings as it determined was appropriate under the circumstances.

11. Petitioner was not required by the governing statute to serve Mr. Rudella, and this averment is admitted.

Additionally, Smith Coal Company was not served with a copy of Mr. Rudella's bid or other official evidence of his identity. Therefore, petitioner did not have a name and address to which service could be made even if it were required.

12. Denied for the reasons said forth in paragraphs 10 and 11 above.

Mr. Rudella's rights have not been prejudiced or his day in court unduly delayed. Either way, he would still be filing these Motions to rescind the Courts November 13th

order.

13. Admitted. The statue is designed to protect both the taxing district, the property owner and those having liens or claims against the property by creating a mechanism which requires would-be purchasers, like Mr. Rudella, to pay a fair price for the subject property.

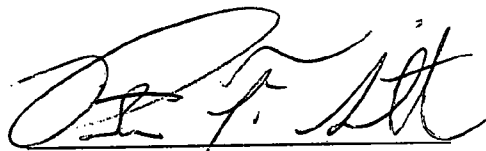

14. Admitted, as to 72 P.S. §5860.618. Petitioner will not bid at the scheduled sale but does plan to attend.

Petitioner is confident that other bidders, who are not disqualified from bidding, will attend the sale when they hear that Sky Haven Coal Company, Inc. is strip mining adjacent properties and that the mining is heading in the direction of the subject property.

Denied, as to 72 P.S. §5860.619. Neither Petitioner nor Smith Coal Company is culpable of any of the anti-social behavior described by this section.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays this Honorable Court to enter an order denying Mr. Rudella's Motions and scheduling a date, time and place for the private auction.

Respectfully submitted,

RESPONSE

COMES NOW, the Petitioner Peter F. Smith, who responds to the motion submitted on behalf of Michael A. Rudella as follows:

1-8. Admitted.

9. This paragraph asserts a legal principal to which no response is required. Petitioner further avers that the Court conducted such proceedings as it determined was appropriate under the circumstances.

11. Petitioner was not required by the governing statute to serve Mr. Rudella, and this averment is admitted.

Additionally, Smith Coal Company was not served with a copy of Mr. Rudella's bid or other official evidence of his identity. Therefore, petitioner did not have a name and address to which service could be made even if it were required.

12. Denied for the reasons said forth in paragraphs 10 and 11 above. Mr. Rudella's rights have not been prejudiced or his day in court unduly delayed. Either way, he would still be filing these Motions to rescind the Courts November 13th

order.

13. Admitted. The statue is designed to protect both the taxing district, the property owner and those having liens or claims against the property by creating a mechanism which requires would-be purchasers, like Mr. Rudella, to pay a fair price for the subject property.

14. Admitted, as to 72 P.S. §5860.618. Petitioner will not bid at the scheduled sale but does plan to attend.

Petitioner is confident that other bidders, who are not disqualified from bidding, will attend the sale when they hear that Sky Haven Coal Company, Inc. is strip mining adjacent properties and that the mining is heading in the direction of the subject property.

Denied, as to 72 P.S. §5860.619. Neither Petitioner nor Smith Coal Company is culpable of any of the anti-social behavior described by this section.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays this Honorable Court to enter an order denying Mr. Rudella's Motions and scheduling a date, time and place for the private auction.

Respectfully submitted,

Peter F. Smith

MOTION TO RESCIND COURT ORDER AND
MOTION TO DISQUALIFY BIDDER

NOW, comes the Petitioner, Michael A. Rudella by and through his attorney, F. Cortez Bell, III, Esquire, who respectfully sets forth the Petitioner's Motion to Rescind Court Order and Motion to Disqualify Bidder avers as follows:

1. That the above captioned matter was originally brought before the Court as a result of a Petition to Disapprove Private Sale filed by the original Petitioner, Peter F. Smith. Said Petition was filed on November 14, 2007.
2. That the Court by Order of November 13, 2007, Ordered and Decreed that the proposed private sale by the Clearfield County Tax Claim Bureau of certain property located at Clearfield County Assessment Map No. 115-N06-000-00008 MN consisting of 100 acres coal rights for the sum of $200.00 was disapproved.
3. That the Court further Ordered that auction style bidding be conducted between the Petitioner, Peter F. Smith and the individual who had originally offered the private bid.
4. That the instant Petitioner, Michael A. Rudella was the individual who on February 7, 2007, had submitted a private bid of $200.00 to purchase the coal rights assessed at 115-N06-000-00008 MN.
5. That notice was provided to the instant Petitioner, Michael A. Rudella, by letter from the Clearfield County Tax Claim Bureau that the private bid had been accepted by the Bureau.

6. That advertisement of the bid and private sale was made by publication within the Clearfield Progress and the Clearfield County Legal Journal on two separate occasions.
7. That the original Petitioner, Peter F. Smith, timely filed a Petition to Disapprove Private Sale challenging the sale pursuant to the provisions of 72 P.S. §5860.613. Said Petition is that Petition referred to within Paragraph 1 above.
8. That the Court, previous to the filing of the Petition with the Court, executed an Order disapproving the sale.
9. That the provisions of 72 P.S. §5860.613 specifically provides that upon the filing of any Petition seeking to disapprove the sale that a hearing shall be held with due and proper notice to the taxing districts involved or effected, the owner, the bureau, the purchaser and any other person who has joined in the Petition. Attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference as Exhibit "A" is a complete copy of 72 P.S. §5860.613.
10. That a review of the Petition to Disapprove Private Sale filed by the original Petitioner, Peter F. Smith, evidences that the Certificate of Service which was attached thereto evidences a copy only having been served on the Tax Claim Bureau and not any of the other parties involved.
11. That the Petitioner herein, Michael A. Rudella would aver that he was never served with a copy of the Petition to Disapprove Private Sale nor was he ever formally served with a copy of the Court Order by which the sale was disapproved. The only knowledge of the matter that was provided to the instant Petitioner was a telephone call received from a member of the staff of the Clearfield County Tax Claim Bureau on December 14, 2007, indicating that the sale had been disapproved by the Court. The Petitioner herein, Michael A. Rudella ultimately went to the Tax Claim Bureau and asked for copies of the Petition to Disapprove of Private Sale and the Court Order Disapproving the Private Sale on December 19, 2007. As of the date of this Motion, no Pleadings, Documents or Orders have ever been formally served on Michael A. Rudella..

12. That as the provisions of the statute, 72 P.S. §5860.613, have not been complied with in that no notice was given to the other parties and no hearing was held, the Order of Court dated August 21, 2007 by which the sale was disapproved must be rescinded.
13. That pursuant to the Court Order entered into as to this matter on November 13, 2007, there is to be a private auction between the Petitioner, Peter F. Smith and the Petitioner, Michael A. Rudella with a starting price of bidding to be the minimum set by the Court of $1,928.11.
14. That the Petitioner, Peter F. Smith is not qualified to bid at said action as he is precluded from bidding pursuant to the provisions of 72 P.S. §5860.618 and 72 P.S. §5860.619. Attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference as Exhibit "B" is a complete copy of said sections.

WHEREFORE, the Petitioner, Michael A. Rudella, would respectfully request that your Honorable Court grant the Motion to Rescind Court Order and/or the Motion to Disqualify Bidder.

Respectfully Submitted,

F. Cortez Bell, III, Esquire

(a) At any time after any property has been exposed to public sale and such property was not sold because no bid was made equal to the upset price, as hereinbefore provided, and whether or not proceedings are initiated pursuant to sections 610 through 612.1, the bureau may, on its own motion, and shall, on the written instructions of any taxing district having any tax claims or tax judgments against said property, agree to sell the property at private sale, at any price approved by the bureau. Notice of the proposed sale, stating the price and the property proposed to be sold, shall be given to each such taxing district and to the owner of the property. Notice shall also be given by publication at least two (2) times, with approximately ten (10) days intervening between each publication, in at least one (1) newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the property is located and in the official legal journal of that county. The notice by publication shall set forth the location of the property, the date and place of sale, the price and terms of sale, and the provision that the property will be sold free and clear of all tax claims and tax judgments. The corporate authorities of any taxing district having any tax claims or tax judgments against the property which is to be sold, the owner, an interested party, or a person interested in purchasing the property may, if not satisfied that the sale price approved by the bureau is sufficient, within forty-five (45) days after notice of the proposed sale, petition the court of common pleas of the county to disapprove the sale. taxing district, the owner, the bureau, the purchaser and any other person who has joined in the petition, hear all parties. After such hearing, the court may either confirm or disapprove the sale as to it appears just and proper. If the sale is disapproved, the court shall at the same time fix a price below which such property shall not be sold and order that, if no private sale can be arranged, the property be sold at public judicial sale under this act. If more than one party agrees to pay the minimum price set by the court, the court shall direct the bureau to conduct an auction-style bid of the property among the parties to the proceedings. If only one party agrees to pay the minimum price set by the court, the bureau shall sell the property to that party without the necessity of an auction.

(b) When an offer to purchase any such property has been received, and the price has been disapproved by the bureau, the bureau shall, on the written instructions of any interested taxing district, submit by petition the proposed sale to the court of common pleas of the county for approval. The court shall, after affording the owner and each taxing district having any tax claims or tax judgments against the property an opportunity to be heard on such notice, as the court deems appropriate, approve or disapprove the sale. If the court approves the sale, it shall be consummated with like effect as though it had been approved by the bureau and by all taxing districts having said interest.

Historical and Statutory Notes

The 1973 amendment substituted the opening phrase of subsection (a) (see the 1986 amendment, post) preceding the words "the bureau may" in lieu of "At any time within one year after any property has been exposed to public sale and such sale is continued because no bid was made equal to the upset price, as herein before provided."

The 1981 amendment, in the fifth sentence of subsec. (a), substituted "forty-five (45)" for "fifteen (15)".

Section 7 of Act 1981, Sept. 26, P.L. 274, No. 92, provides that the amendment to this section "shall take effect January 1, 1982 and be applicable to all sales agreed to on or after the effective date".

The 1986 amendment rewrote subsection (a), which previously read:

"(a) At any time after any property has been exposed to public sale and such sale is not sold because no bid was made equal to the upset price, as hereinbefore provided, and whether or not proceedings are initiated pursuant to sections 610 through 612.1, the bureau may, on its own motion, and shall, on the written instructions of any taxing district having any tax claims or tax judgments against said property, agree to sell the property at private sale, at any price approved by the bureau. Notice of the proposed sale, stating the price and the property proposed to be sold, shall be given to each such taxing district and to the owner of the property. The corporate authorities

PETITION TO DISAPPROVE PRIVATE SALE

TO: The Honorable Fredric J. Ammerman, President Judge

COMES NOW, the Petitioner Peter F. Smith, who files this Petition to Disapprove Private Sale and in support thereof avers:

1. Petitioner is an adult individual residing at 102 Elizabeth Street, Clearfield, Clearfield County, Pennsylvania 16830
2. Respondent is a bureau of Clearfield County, a government agency, with offices at 230 East Market Street, Clearfield, Clearfield County, Pennsylvania 16830.
3. Respondent notified Smith Coal Company by letter dated October 26, 2007 sent by U. S. Certified Mail of a proposed private sale of 100 acres coal rights assessed to Smith Coal Company and identified by Clearfield County Assessment Number 115-N06-000-00008 MN.
4. According to said notice a bid of $200.00 has been received and accepted by Respondent with the private sale to be held on December 27, 2007 at 9:00 a.m. in the Tax Claim Bureau, 230 East Market Street, Clearfield, Pennsylvania 16830.

5. The bid of $200.00 is insufficient since the amount of outstanding taxes and costs as of November 1, 2007 is the sum of $1,928.11, and your Petition is willing to offer at least the amount of the outstanding taxes and costs.

WHEREFORE, your Petitioner respectfully requests your Honorable Court to disapprove the private sale and to direct the Respondent to hold a private auction for the sale of said interest in the real estate in accordance with the Real Estate Tax Sale Law (72 P.S. §5860.101 et seq.).

Respectfully submitted,

MEMORANDUM OPINION BY
JUDGE BUTLER

FILED: June 17, 2009

Peter F. Smith (Smith) appeals from the April 22, 2008 order of the Court of Common Pleas of Clearfield County (trial court) ultimately qualifying Michael Rudella (Rudella) as the only remaining party eligible to buy the property at issue for an amount equal to the upset value as of the date of purchase, plus all additional costs incurred by the Tax Claim Bureau (Bureau). The issues before this Court are whether the trial court erred as a matter of law or abused its discretion in determining that Smith was not qualified to participate in an auction-style sale for the coal rights, and whether the trial court erred as a matter of law or abused its discretion in failing to fix a minimum price as required by statute. For the reasons that follow, we affirm the trial court.

Smith Coal Company (Company) owns 100 acres of coal rights in Clearfield County. The Company failed to pay real estate taxes for approximately thirteen years. Multiple public sales did not result in the purchase of the rights but, that this section also makes him a “party to the proceedings” which allows him to bid on the property. We disagree.

Finding that an owner is allowed to participate in an auction-style sale as established in Section 613 of the Tax Sale Law simply because he is a “party to the proceedings,” would defeat the purpose of Section 618 of the Tax Sale Law. In addition, Section 613(a) of the Tax Sale Law states: “If the sale is disapproved, the court shall at the same time fix a price below which such property shall not be sold and order that, if no private sale can be arranged, the property be sold at public judicial sale under this act.” (Emphasis added). Section 618 of the Tax Sale Law specifically states that an owner may not purchase his own property at a judicial sale under the provisions of this act. Since the only types of sales allowed under Section 613(a) of the Tax Sale Law are judicial or private sales, the owner will never be allowed to participate in the purchase of the property.<sup>4</sup> The auction-style sale is merely a means of carrying out either the judicial or private sale required in Section 613(a) of the Tax Sale Law. Therefore, the trial court did not err as a matter of law or abuse its discretion in determining that Smith was not eligible to participate in the auction-style sale of the coal rights at issue.

Smith also argues that the trial court’s order did not fix a minimum sale price as required by Section 613(a) of the Tax Sale Law. Section 613(a) of the Tax Sale Law states, in relevant part:

If the sale is disapproved, the court shall at the same time fix a price below which such property shall not be sold and order that, if no private sale can be arranged, the property be sold at public judicial sale under this act. If more than one party agrees to pay the minimum price set by the court, the court shall direct the bureau to conduct an auction-style

bid of the property among the parties to the proceedings. If only one party agrees to pay the minimum price set by the court, the bureau shall sell the property to that party without the necessity of an auction.

(Emphasis added). In the present case, the trial court did set a minimum price, although it is not spelled out in the order. The trial court's order included that following instruction: "Michael Rudella, as the only remaining party qualified to buy the property, shall have the right to purchase the coal rights for an amount equal to the full upset price as of the date of purchase, plus all additional costs incurred by the Tax Claim Bureau." R.R. at 60a (emphasis added). The trial court determined that Smith was ineligible to purchase the coal rights. In doing so, the only interested party remaining was Rudella. While the trial court did not specifically use language such as "the minimum price will be . . . ," it did indicate that Rudella would have to purchase the coal rights at the full upset price plus costs. That is the lowest amount the Bureau would accept for the purchase of the coal rights and, since there were no other parties to participate in an auction-style sale, it is the price that will have to be paid by Rudella if Rudella is to purchase the coal rights. Therefore, the trial court did not fail to fix a minimum price as required by statute.

For the reasons stated, the trial court's order is affirmed.
