Please include your name, address, home telephone number and account number.

PERIODIC FINANCE CHARGES. Periodic Finance Charges are imposed on all transactions from the date the transaction is posted to your Account New Balance, by making payments or receiving credits. However, we will provide the following "grace period." If you paid the New Balance on or before the Payment Due Date on this statement, we will not impose Periodic Finance Charges on new purchases, that is, purchases first appearing on this statement. Otherwise, you will receive a billing statement next month that includes Periodic Finance Charges on those new purchases. There is no cash advances.

We sort your transactions into 4 groups. We refer to these groups as their Annual Percentage Rate (APR) groups. Each day of the billing period is categorized Average Daily Balance. These amounts are then we add up the purchases, cash advances, and balance transfers and then further sort the transactions within each group by transaction categories. At the end of each billing period, we compute balances and Periodic Finance Charges for each transaction category. We use the following equation to compute Periodic Finance Charges for each transaction: Number of days in the billing period  $\times$  Daily Periodic Rate. (See the finance charge summary on your statement for the Periodic Finance Charges for each transaction category to get the total Periodic Finance Charges for your account. The Average Daily Balance is shown as zero if, because of the grace period, no Periodic Finance Charges apply to the balance in a transaction category.)

We use the two-cycle average balance (including new transactions) method of calculating the balance upon which we impose Periodic Finance Charges. This means if you make a payment before the Payment Due Date shown on the previous billing statement, as well as new purchases that first appear on the current billing statement, we will impose Periodic Finance Charges on the New Balance shown on the billing statement you received during the previous billing period by the statement date, we will impose Periodic Finance Charges on new purchases that first appeared on that billing statement, and we will not impose Periodic Finance Charges on the purchases on the current billing statement, unless we already imposed Periodic Finance Charges on the purchases on the previous billing statement.

We compute the Average Daily Balance for each transaction category by adding up all the daily balances in a billing period for a transaction category and dividing the total by the number of days in the billing cycle. We compute the daily balance for each transaction category on each day by first adding the following to the previous day's daily balance: transactions made that day, fees charged that day and Periodic Finance Charges accrued on that day. In calculating the daily balance for the previous billing period, we consider the "previous day's daily balance" to have been zero on the first day of the billing period. If a transaction is posted to your Account after the close of the billing period in which it occurs, we will treat the transaction as having occurred on the first day of the billing period in which it is posted to your Account.

All fees charged to your Account are added to the applicable finance charges which are added to the applicable balance transfer transaction category. When the special rate expires, we move the unpaid balance of the balance transfer transaction category to the standard purchase transaction category. However, if the special rate has been terminated under the Default Plan, we leave the unpaid balance of the balance transfer and the Balance Transfer Transaction Fee Finance Charge in the applicable transaction category until the special rate would have expired.

The Defense Manpower Data Center (DMDC) is an organization of the Department of Defense that maintains the Defense Enrollment and Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS) database which is the official source of data on eligibility for military medical care and other eligibility systems.

The Department of Defense strongly supports the enforcement of the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act [50 USCS Appx. §§ 501 et seq] (SCRA) (formerly the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940). DMDC has issued hundreds of thousands of "does not possess any information indicating that the individual is currently on active duty" responses, and has experienced a small error rate. In the event the individual referenced above, or any family member, friend, or representative asserts in any manner that the individual is on active duty, or is otherwise entitled to the protections of the SCRA, you are strongly encouraged to obtain further verification of the person's active duty status by contacting that person's Military Service via the "defenselink.mil" URL provided below. If you have evidence the person is on active-duty and you fail to obtain this additional Military Service verification, provisions of the SCRA may be invoked against you.

If you obtain further information about the person ( e.g., an SSN, improved accuracy of DOB, a middle name), you can submit your request again at this Web site and we will provide a new certificate for that query.

This response reflects current active duty status only. For historical information, please contact the Military Service SCRA points-of-contact.
