Vandals Damage Historic Church's Cemetery in Pa.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"It's just one of those things that literally turn you upside down," said the Rev. Ernest A. Harding, rector of Christ Church as he studied the damage left by vandals in the historic church's cemetery.

For the second time in little more than a year vandals early Wednesday scaled the red brick fence around the cemetery where Benjamin Franklin and four signers of the Declaration of Independence are buried. They walked among the headstones, brittle with age and with legends worn by the elements, knocking some over and defacing others. Twenty of the markers were damaged or ruined.

In August of 1963, vandals got inside the cemetery and damaged or ruined 63 stones.

The Rev. Mr. Harding said for a while the church considered donating the ground to the government, but finally decided to keep it as part of the church. Even today, he said, there is an occasional burial despite the crowded condition.

It cost about $2,000 to repair the damage from the 1963 raid. The Rev. Mr. Harding said that the money came from school children and from the pennies that tourists toss on the top of Franklin's grave.

Two million Americans of Ukrainian descent live in the United States.
